SOCKEYE TREATY IS BROUGHT BEFORE PARLIAMENT

NAVY TREATY APPROVED BY HOUSE TO-DAY

Premier King Moves Resolution for Ratification of Arms Limitation and Reduction Pact; Work of Hon. J. C. Ralston Is Praised; Criticism by Conservative Leader.

Ottawa, May 26.—The House of Commons to-day approved the international treaty for limitation and reduction of naval armaments. Approval was given after Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, who was Canada's chief representative at the London Naval Conference, has given a review of the proceedings there and an interpretation of the terms of the treaty. Premier King moved the resolution of approval and when it carried made a further motion that the treaty be passed on to the Senate for ratification by that chamber.

The Prime Minister's resolution was "that it is expedient that Parliament do approve of the international treaty for the limitation and reduction of naval armaments, London, April 22, 1930, signed in respect of the Dominion of Canada by the plenipotentiary named therein, and that this House do approve of the same."

PARLIAMENT DISSOLUTION IS EXPECTED

Believed Definite Date For Election Will Be Fixed This Week

Ottawa, May 26.—Parliament to-day entered the week that many believe will see dissolution and a definite date announced for the election to be held this summer. With morning, afternoon and evening sittings in progress the comparatively small order paper should be cleared late this week, it is believed by most of the members.

Chief among the more contentious matters are the iron and steel increases announced in the budget which will come before the House to-day. That at least one amendment, and possibly more, will be moved, is taken for granted.

Special Session Of U.S. Senate To Consider Treaty

Washington, May 26.—Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican leader, announced to-day after a series of conferences with Senate and House leaders, that the London Naval Limitation Treaty would be left for the special session of the Senate, which President Hoover is prepared to call.

Graf Is Moored At Pernambuco To-day

Pernambuco, Brazil, May 16.—Ending a journey of nearly 2,500 miles to Rio Janeiro and back, the German dirigible, Graf Zeppelin, arrived at 9:10 o'clock a.m. to-day (4:10 a.m. Victoria time), was moored to its mast in this city to begin the preparations for a flight to North America.

The log of the Graf Zeppelin follows all hours being Victoria time:
Sunday, 8:15 a.m.—Left Friedrichshafen, Germany for Seville, Spain.
Monday, 7:40 p.m.—Arrived at Seville.
Tuesday, 12:30 p.m.—Left Seville for Pernambuco, Brazil.
7:00 p.m.—Passed over Las Palmas, Canary Islands.
Wednesday, 9:15 p.m.—Dropped anchor at Porto Fain, Cape Verde Islands.
Thursday, 1 a.m. (approximate)—Crossed the Equator.
7:05 p.m.—Landed at Pernambuco, Brazil.
Friday, 6:55 p.m.—Left Pernambuco for Rio Janeiro Harbor, waiting for daylight.
Sunday, 2:30 a.m.—Landed at the Campo Dos Afonso Air Field.
3:45 a.m.—Left on the return voyage to Pernambuco.
10:15 a.m.—Passed Victoria, 300 miles from Rio Janeiro and nearly a quarter to Pernambuco.
7:35 p.m.—Passed over Bahia.

POLICE FIRE ON MOBS IN INDIA CITIES

Many Moslems Wounded During Clash in Bombay To-day, Says Report

Numerous Natives Arrested in Disturbance at Wadala

Canadian Press
Bombay, May 26.—Police fired several rounds into rioting Mohammedans to-day during a conflict in the Shendi Bazaar, Moslem quarter of this city. Eight rioters were admitted to hospital for treatment, many others were wounded.

ARRESTS MADE
Bombay, May 26.—Disturbances and arrests of civil disobedience leaders in widely separated areas to-day compelled the attention of British and Indian authorities throughout India.

The killing of D. B. Murphy, assistant superintendent of police in Peshawar, indicated renewal of disorders in that strife-torn district.

Belt raids at Wadala were repeated to-day. Two hundred arrests were made and fully 500 were taken to the police encounters with armed police who raked the raiders with six rounds of gunfire.

BULK OF PEOPLE OF INDIA NOT IN DISORDERS

London, May 26.—Mr. Hon. Wedgwood Benn, Secretary of State for India, to-day declared during a debate in the House of Commons that "the vast majority of the people of India are peacefully pursuing their daily lives in the glad enjoyment of all the blessings of a settled and ordered government."

Captain Benn said that was the case "despite all the series of events which have been occurring." The disorders, he declared, had been confined to the urban districts, except in the Gujarat area. The Mohammedans, he said, had held aloof from them, with comparatively few exceptions.

The threat of extension of the civil resistance campaign to the countryside, contained in recent resolutions of the working committee of the All-India National Congress, Captain Benn declared, so far had not materialized and the government had no intention of permitting it to do so.

Scenes of Clashes and Arrests in India

Big Welcome Awaits Aviatrix At Sydney

Amy Johnson, After England-Australia Flight, Is Piloting Plane Across Commonwealth

Sydney, N.S.W., May 26.—Miss Amy Johnson, British aviatrix, who Saturday completed a flight from England to Australia, arrived at Daly Waters from Port Darwin to-day after a bumpy but pleasant trip of 320 miles.

She planned to refuel and take off for Alexandria, Egypt, where she expected to halt for the night. Alexandria is without telegraph facilities and her progress will not be reported until she reaches Long Beach Tuesday night. She is flying to this city, where a great welcome is assured her.

UNIQUE ACHIEVEMENT
Port Darwin, Australia, May 26.—When a golden-haired English girl of twenty-three dropped out of the sky here Saturday afternoon she completed an achievement unprecedented in aviation history. She is Amy Johnson—the first woman to fly solo across the world. She is known as "Jo"—and she had, alone in her tiny Moth plane, flown all the way from England to Australia, a distance of 9,000 miles, boldly facing a thousand perils and winning out in the face of seemingly unbeatable obstacles.

When "Jo" left Croydon less than three weeks ago to match the record of Bert Hinkley, the world's first solo flight, she was met by a storm of skepticism. A mere girl, with comparatively little flying experience, the idea of her even trying to make the flight seemed ridiculous. Good fortune, which was Hinkley's constant companion on his amazing flight two years ago, de-

Needs of District Are Cared For By The Government

Ottawa, May 26.—In the House of Commons this forenoon Premier King replied to a question placed on the order paper last week by E. J. Gott, Conservative, Essex South, Ontario, "Who holds the Government responsible for the riding of Essex, and who is recognized government representative?" Mr. Gott asked.

"The government," the Prime Minister replied.

MANY HONOR MEMORY OF CHURCH HEAD

Body of Lord Davidson Is to Be Buried at Canterbury, Eng., on Friday

Former Archbishop Died Early Yesterday at Age of Eighty-two

London, May 26.—The body of Lord Davidson, former Archbishop of Canterbury, will be buried with impressive ceremonies in Canterbury Cathedral Friday. The service will be conducted by Lord Davidson's successor in the See of Canterbury, Archbishop Cosmo Gordon Lang, Primate of England. King George will be represented.

Lord Davidson, who was Primate of England from 1903 to 1928, had been ill for some time at his Chelsea home, and began to sink on Saturday. His vitality steadily ebbed until he died at 10:5 o'clock yesterday morning.

Death was solely due to infirmities of old age. Throughout Saturday Davidson, despite her frail health, kept vigil at his bedside, and friends were unable to persuade her to leave her room.

His LAST SALUTE
Before he lost consciousness, the former Archbishop raised his hand as if to salute the brave companion of his life's work. A faint smile came to his lips.

Lord and Lady Davidson had no children. Thus there is no heir to the barony and the first temporal peerage bestowed upon an English churchman becomes extinct.

GOVERNMENT OF CHINA NOW HAS BACK TO WALL

Shanghai, May 26.—The National Government of China to-day was fighting with its back to the wall, struggling with civil war in north China and harassed by bandit and red armies in numerous provinces, the government imperatively needed money for military operations, while confronted with an economic crisis.

MRS. C. F. TODD, PIONEER OF CITY, CALLED TO REST

Wife of Well-known Cannery Owner Died Sunday After Long Illness

Came to City With Her Parents From Toronto in 1863

After a long illness, Mrs. Charles F. Todd, wife of the well-known cannery owner, and a pioneer resident of Victoria, passed away on Sunday evening, in her seventieth year, at the family residence, 1041 St. Charles Street. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband and two sons, William L. and Ernest D. Todd, both of Victoria.

The late Mrs. Todd was born near Toronto, and as Miss Louisa Norris came with her parents to Victoria about 1863, residing here ever since. Of a kindly and generous nature, Mrs. Todd was ever ready to help those less fortunate, and in addition to the more intimate friends who enjoyed her friendship, left a host of recipients of her kindness, who will mourn her passing with sincere grief.

The funeral will be private and will be from the family residence to-morrow afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. Interment will be in Ross Bay Cemetery. Canon F. A. F. Chadwick will officiate.

HAWAII FEELS EARTH SHOCKS

Hilo, Hawaii, May 26.—A sharp earthquake shook Hilo at 8:17 o'clock last night (10:47 p.m. Pacific Standard Time). There was no damage. The Kilauea Volcano observatory reported the quake bore no volcanic activity. The quake also was felt in the Kona District on the opposite side of the island.

U.S. Senate Is Asking About Tariff Protests

Washington, May 26.—The Senate to-day called on the Secretary of State to supply it with a list of nations on record protesting against the pending tariff bill.

GREAT RALLY OF LIBERALS AT KAMLOOPS

Triennial Convention Expected to Be Most Enthusiastic in Years

Every Association in Province Will Be Well Represented

All Liberal members and candidates, both Federal and provincial and presidents of Federal and provincial Liberal associations throughout the Province will be present at the triennial Liberal convention to be held at Kamloops, May 30 and May 31, Major S. L. Moody, provincial Liberal organizer, stated this morning.

Delegates have been named by all associations. Major Moody reports and the convention promises to be one of the most representative and enthusiastic ever held in the Province. Those who will carry the Liberal standard in the forthcoming Federal contest will be made known to the convention. All candidates having been named throughout the Province with the exception of those for Victoria, Vancouver North and Vancouver Centre. Choice of the leader of the party in British Columbia is the outstanding business of the convention.

The constitution of the B.C. Liberal Association calls for a convention every three years, and at the last convention held in Vancouver in the spring of 1927 Kamloops was chosen as the next meeting place. Both railroads are arranging special accommodation for the delegates and in addition many will travel by automobile.

FIVE KILLED WHEN TRAIN SMASHES CAR

Party Returning From Holiday Trip Meets Disaster Near Cobourg, Ont.

Ottawa, Ont., May 26.—Five persons met instant death early to-day near east of Cobourg, when the car in which they were returning to Hamilton from Montreal was struck by a Canadian National Railway engine.

In the car were Mr. and Mrs. H. Johnston Jr. and the latter's two children, James, five years, and Robert, eighteen months, and Robert, twenty-year-old son of the elder couple. All were killed with the exception of James and Robert, the youth. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Johnston Jr., James, was in his mother's arms at the time of the crash and was badly hurt. The young man jumped clear a moment before the impact. Both the Johnston family and their recovery is expected.

FENTON IS TO VISIT CITY TO-MORROW

Australian Minister of Trade and Customs Is in Vancouver To-day

He Will Address Victoria Canadian Club; Will Meet B.C. Ministers

Canadian Press
Vancouver, May 26.—Hon. James E. Fenton, Minister of Trade and Customs in Australia's Labor Government, is a visitor in Vancouver to-day, having arrived Sunday morning on the last stage of his return journey from the London Naval Disarmament Conference.

To-morrow morning Mr. Fenton, accompanied by Mrs. Duffy and his secretary, W. O. Duffy, will leave here for Victoria. While in the capital he will meet representatives of the provincial Cabinet, and address the Victoria Canadian Club. The party will sail aboard the liner Aorangi Wednesday.

TO-DAY IN VANCOUVER
To-day in Vancouver Mr. Fenton had several conferences relative to Australian commerce and the Fenton tariff. In addition to addressing the Canadian Club at noon and the Women's Canadian Club this afternoon, he will return to the hotel to have power to the removal of any obstacle to the movement of salmon up the rivers within territory.

TO MAKE RULES
In order to promote the object of the treaty, the commission is given authority to make regulations limiting the taking of sockeye salmon in any of the waters covered by the treaty. It will also have power to prescribe the size of meshes in all fishing gear operated in these waters. In so far as the treaty relates to the high seas, the regulations of the commission will only be binding on the nationals of Canada and the United States and will not apply to fishermen from other countries.

Big Plane Runs Amok On Vancouver Field

Stinson Monoplane on Ground, With No Pilot Aboard, Runs Away and Crashes Into Two Moth Planes

Running amok at the temporary Vancouver airport on Lulu Island, shortly after 2 p.m. Sunday, a Stinson passenger monoplane of the Dominion Airways crashed into two parked Moth planes before it was brought to a stop.

No injuries to any of the spectators who crowded the field at the time were reported, but a small boy standing by the landing field received medical attention for a minor cut and scratches. It is reported he fell from a fence in the excitement.

WARMER DAYS ON WAY HERE

Weather Man Announces Cool Springtime to Give Way to Summer

Victoria is to enjoy a term of warm weather. Forecasting that overcast summer days are to arrive immediately, officials of the Meteorological Observatory this morning stated that a high pressure area of great importance had developed in the north, and this assured warm days for Victoria, possibly accompanied by wind.

The half gale which prevailed on Empire Day was due to existence of a large barometric area in the interior of British Columbia, which attracted a rush of air from the coastal regions.

BODY FOUND ON RIVER ISLAND IS IDENTIFIED

Montreal, May 26.—According to police, the body found a week ago on an island in the St. Lawrence River, a few miles below Montreal, cut into small pieces, had been identified as that of Philippe Lafontaine, a seven-year-old, Montreal-born, and youth. Adam Forbes, thirty-five, was being held at provincial police headquarters last night as a material witness, and the latter's Sherbrooke Street apartment was being examined for bloodstains.

FRED LANDSBERG IS NAMED AS BEST CITIZEN

Annual Appreciation Medal
Presented to Him at Central School Ceremony

Mayor Anscumb, in Presenting Medal, Says Award Endorsed By Victoria Citizens

More than 500 persons attended the Saturday afternoon reception at the old school in connection with the Boys' Central School Reunion, when Robert H. Hiscocks, chief factor of Victoria Post No. 1, announced that Fred Landsberg had been named the best citizen of Victoria for the year.

Mayor Anscumb presented the Appreciation Medal given annually by the Victoria Post of the Native Sons and the Native Daughters of British Columbia, and Miss Etta Neelands, chief factor of Victoria Post No. 3, of the Native Daughters, pinned the medal on.

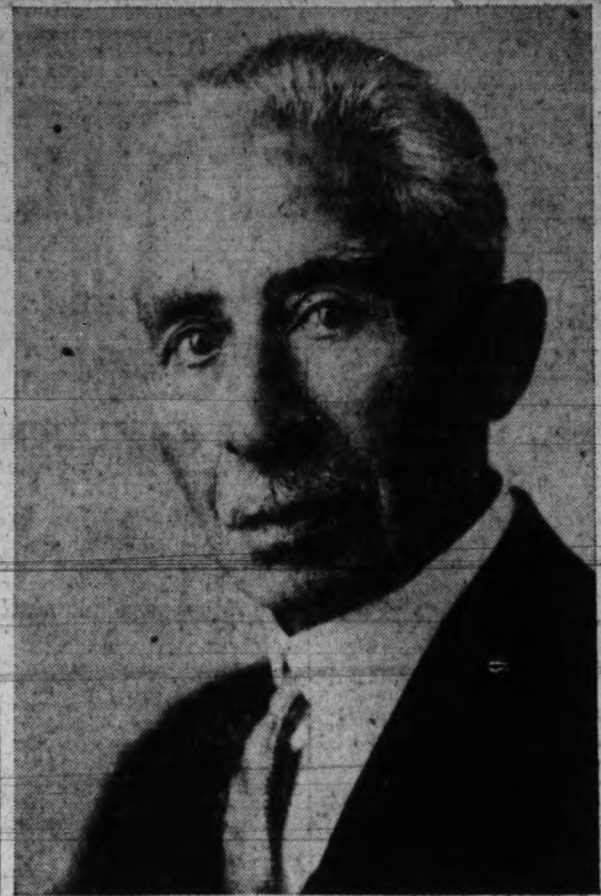

Mr. Hiscocks said the committee was sure of the unanimous approval of the choice and thanked those who had sent in nominations.

"I have been asked by the Victoria Post of the Native Sons and Daughters of British Columbia to be here to-day at the presentation of the Appreciation Medal (which is now an annual event), to the person selected by a committee of three disinterested business people—who make the selection of best citizen—a person they believe to uphold in the best possible manner, the ideals of good citizenship," Mayor Anscumb said.

"The Victoria Post of the Native Sons and Native Daughters of British Columbia, deserve the highest praise for the splendid spirit that prompted the thought to give public recognition of faithful service rendered by a good citizen. They are also to be congratulated on having shown such a broad-minded viewpoint in leaving the selection open to any citizen, whether native-born or not, and whether living within the confines of the capital city or of the adjoining municipalities. "We are gathered here now to pay tribute to the recipient of this year's Appreciation Medal, Mr. Landsberg."

WORTHY OF RECOGNITION
"I think you will all agree—and the citizens generally will concur, that no matter how difficult the choice may have been, no mistake has been made in selecting Mr. Landsberg. "I think that any man who comes

NAMED VICTORIA'S BEST CITIZEN OF 1930

who was this year selected for the Appreciation Medal given by the Victoria Post of the Native Sons and Native Daughters of British Columbia to the person chosen as the best citizen of Greater Victoria.

to Canada, or for that matter to any part of our great empire, from any foreign country, becomes naturalized, and lives up to the best traditions of the Empire—namely, loyalty, respect for the law, charity, and in general working for the good of the community, is worthy of recognition as one of our best citizens. "It is hardly necessary for me to tell you that Mr. Landsberg fulfills and more than fulfills all these splendid qualities that I have mentioned.

"Only a few months ago Mr. Landsberg was a leading personality in the successful drive for assistance to the blind—the same applies to Red Cross work—cheerful and frequent calls in many ways to make life more pleasant for the inmates of our Homes for the Aged—and his unflinching willingness to respond to any call on his purse or his time, where charity is the motive."

NO LIMITS OF RACE OR CREED
Mr. Landsberg in his reply of thanks said that the happiest years of his life had been spent in Victoria, of which city he had been a resident now for forty-six years. He thanked Victorians for their assistance, which they had given him for the charities for which he had appealed.

"Charity, like divine love, has no limits of race, creed or country," Mr. Landsberg said, adding that he had never had any person refuse some contribution.

He said that among the causes he had appealed for charity for, was that of the Armenians, who had been the worst persecutors of his own Jewish people.

"But in this I have followed the precept of one of my own race who lived 2,000 years ago, and whose sayings you all know," he went on. "After the presentation, he was served in the school building by a reception committee of former pupils or teachers of the Boys' and Girls' Central School, Mrs. Mawhinney, Mrs. Olive, Mrs. Butress, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Beers, Mrs. Cullum, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. McNeill, Mrs. Huxtable, Mrs. Cady-Johnson, Mrs. Markus, Miss Sylvester, J. Randolph and J. McKenzie.

FOURTH TO RECEIVE HONOR

Mr. Landsberg is the fourth person to be presented with an appreciation medal. Captain Ian G. Blair, for thirty-three years instructor of physical education in the public schools, was the first to receive the award three years ago. Miss Mary Lawson, secretary-treasurer of the Friendly Help Association, was honored in 1928, while last year Mrs. Helen Grant, an untiring social worker, was chosen.

BORN IN RUSSIA
Mr. Landsberg's life history, as told in The Times a short time ago, shows him to be absolutely a self-made man and yet one who has always given more into life than he has taken out of it. Born in the Ukrainian district of Russia, of strictly orthodox Jewish parents, he was one of a family of seventeen. After serving in the Russian army as a youth, he came to Canada under the Borel de Hirsch immigration scheme when he was twenty-one years of age.

He landed in Quebec with exactly forty cents in his pocket and a complete ignorance of either the English or French languages.

FIFTY YEARS LATER
How he worked his way westward to Victoria during the next four years and then finally threw in his lot with this western capital reads like a tale of romance.

After settling foot in Canada without a friend or money, he is to-day acknowledged the best citizen of beautiful Victoria.

LEAGUE INSTALS ITS OFFICERS
Far West Assembly Canadian Daughters Reviews Active Year

Installation of officers was the principal item of the agenda at the recent meeting of the Far West Assembly Canadian Daughters' League, when there was a large attendance of members and several members of Assembly No. 8 were present, including Mrs. F. H. Grier, grand, Mrs. J. H. Grier, and Mrs. B. H. McInnes, president. Several important communications were received and much routine business transacted.

ANNUAL REPORT
The retiring treasurer, Mrs. Owen, gave a most gratifying annual report. The report of the historian, Mrs. A. Galbraith, showed that much has been accomplished during the last year. Resolutions of national importance have been sponsored and those sponsored by other assemblies throughout the Dominion have been given hearty support. Much has also been done along educational lines. The retiring president, thanked the officers of the last year for their co-operation. The thanks of the assembly was also tendered to the press and the press correspondent for the splendid publicity given during the last year; to the orchestra for assistance given at social gatherings and to Mrs. Cottell, who has so kindly loaned her home for orchestra practice.

Mrs. R. Ritchie, installing officer, and Mrs. A. Haines, installing marshal, both of whom are members of the grand executive, installed the officers-elect for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. E. Clark; 1st vice-president, Mrs. A. Galbraith; 2nd vice-president, Miss L. Noble; recording secretary, Miss R. Cottell; corresponding secretary, Miss B. Dewar; financial secretary, Miss M. Dickson; treasurer, Mrs. L. A. Campbell; chaplain, Mrs. B. Ritchie; (installed by Mrs. Haines); sergeant-at-arms, Miss T. Hocking; assistant sergeant-at-arms, Miss H. Haines; inner guard, Miss Clawson; outer guard, Mrs. Briere; historian, Mrs. O. L. Wilson; pianist, Miss E. Stinson; press correspondent, Miss Nathan. Mrs. Clark has been elected as delegate to the annual convention being held in Vancouver next week. Mrs. Galbraith was elected alternate. Mrs. Barr will attend as past president.

PRESIDENTATION
A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation to Mrs. Barr of a past president's pin, a gold fountain pen suitably engraved, and a beautiful bouquet of carnations and roses. The presentation was made in a pleasing manner by six of the younger members of the assembly. Mrs. Barr voiced her appreciation in a gracious little speech. Flowers were presented to Mrs. Ritchie and Mrs. Haines and thanks given them for installing the officers. Mrs. Clark, in a few words, thanked the assembly for the honor bestowed upon her and appointed the following conveners of standing committees: Educational, Mrs. Barr; law, Mrs. Campbell; sick visiting, Mrs. Ritchie; finance, Mrs. Harrison.

UNtil yesterday, this girl's husband had lovingly encouraged her small extravagances and boasted laughingly that his income was ample and growing.

He worked with might and main to "gather the fruits of success for his fair trinity at home"—and was succeeding.

But death, without warning, cut down his guard, and the three he loved more than his own life were now at bay to the world—alone.

Her faith was strong. Her husband she knew, would not leave her with the children to face a financial situation for which there was no solution. Yet when she tried to calculate the income she would receive from the savings he had left, a panic of fear overcame her.

The greatest and hardest of her duties now was the one she knew the least about.

If she had come to you for advice—that would have been her story.

Perhaps someone depending on you is destined some day to be left alone—at bay to the world. This is a situation so appalling that its very contemplation makes thinking men turn cold with apprehension.

That is why we have written a little work called "Her Way Out"—to make you realize how serious is the situation which may overtake those for whom you believe no sacrifice or effort is too great.

In addition it provides the one sensible solution for such a tragic problem. Would you like to have a copy? We will be pleased indeed to send you one.

NEW PLYMOUTH 4-DOOR SEDAN, 3-WINDOW, $775—Canadian-Built For Canadians

NEW SPEED... NEW POWER... SMARTER... LARGEST, FINEST CARS IN THE LOWEST-PRICED FIELD... SAFETY-STEEL BODIES

In the new, finer Plymouth, Chrysler Motors' scientific engineering and precision craftsmanship have created the most remarkable motor car in the lowest-price field.

With its new, larger high-compression engine, the new, finer Plymouth outperforms all other cars of this price group. This performance is delivered with the smoothness of cars of higher price—with economy of operation and maintenance unsurpassed by cars of any price.

Brakes are hydraulic—internal, weatherproof and always safe.

The new, finer Plymouth is the only full-size car in the lowest-price field. Every line emphasizes bigness as it sweeps gracefully back from a wide and high radiator.

There's beauty in its upholstery, good taste in its appointments and a new sturdiness and quiet in its Safety-Steel body. A French-type roof caps the effect of Continental smartness.

See it today. Ask for a demonstration. As you look and as you drive, keep reminding yourself that this amazingly big and fine automobile with its phenomenal performance is one of the world's lowest-priced cars!

FEATURES: Smart Safety-Steel bodies of new strength and silence—new radiator and hood design—full-size leg-room, head-room and seat width—larger high-compression engine—rubber engine mountings—full-pressure engine lubrication—crankcase ventilator—Chrysler-designed internal weatherproof 4-wheel hydraulic brakes—four long semi-elliptic shock-absorbing springs, laterally mounted, with self-adjusting spring shackles—safety gas tank in rear.

PREMIER OPENS BRIDGE ACROSS ST. LAWRENCE

Montreal Harbor Span Put Into Use Following Address From Ottawa

Ceremony Conducted Over Radio and Bunting Released By Press of Button

Montreal, May 26.—"Bridges and tunnels make for unity and friendship," declared Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister of Canada, Saturday, in declaring "open to the people of our country and to all who may come to visit us from other lands" the Montreal Harbor Bridge.

The words were spoken into a telephone in the office of the Prime Minister in the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa, 120 miles away, but the words came clear and strong through loud-speakers to the 4,000 invited guests gathered on the centre of the bridge beneath brilliant May sunshine at high noon.

It was a distinguished assembly that journeyed to the St. Helen's Island concourse, half-way mark on the broad, smooth two-mile highway of steel and concrete that had been flung high across the rushing waters of the St. Lawrence at a cost of some $20,000,000.

At the conclusion of his address Premier King pressed a button on his desk in Ottawa, electrically releasing two Union Jacks hung over the bridge plaques on which was engraved, in English and French, a brief history of the bridge.

INQUEST ON DEATH SET

An inquest will be held to-morrow afternoon at 4 o'clock at Thomson and Petherly Funeral Home over the body of A. J. Wedd, Elk Lake resident, who was found dead early Saturday morning.

Circumstances surrounding the death suggested suicide, police discovered. Mr. Wedd had been ill for some time, Dr. D. M. Baillie pronounced life extinct and called the police. After Coroner E. C. Hart had seen the body, he ordered the inquest.

MORE EQUIPMENT FOR JUBILEE

X-Ray Machinery to Be Added; Oak Bay Gives Extra $1,000

Additional X-ray equipment will be furnished for the Jubilee Hospital, directors of that institution decided on Friday night, following the receipt of a request from Dr. W. M. Carr, radiologist. The board decided to purchase a branch bumper radiological, cystoscopic and radiographic cable for X-ray work. An additional technician is to be engaged to assist the department. Acknowledgment was made of an additional vote of $1,000 from Oak Bay municipality and $900 from the B.C. Cement Company for the maintenance of its ward.

The monthly statistics of the institution showed that during April there had been 7,178 hospital days, with an average number of patients in the hospital of 238 per day. Per capita cost was announced at $9.25 per day, or with X-ray and laboratory service $9.63. The annual meeting of subscribers and donors was held for June 27. In connection with the choice of the incoming directorate, it was announced that the representatives of the medical profession on the board for the year commencing July 1 would be Drs. G. C. Kenning, T. McPherson and J. W. Lennox. The resignation of Miss Warren as their supervisor was accepted with regret.

FIREWORKS SEEN BY THOUSANDS

Pyrotechnic Display Drew Big Crowd to Causeway Saturday Night

Thousands of citizens lined the Causeway in front of the Empress Hotel and availed themselves of every point of vantage on the various wharves on Saturday evening at 9:30 o'clock for the pyrotechnic display which was the culminating feature of the May 24 celebrations.

The display was arranged from scores moored in the inner harbor, and choruses of admiring "oh's" and "ah's" greeted the spectacular set pieces, which included a glowing Union Jack and a maple leaf, the brilliantly colored rockets, Roman candles, shower of shooting stars and other wonders of pyrotechny which flashed into the sky.

VICTORIA RETAINS SHOOTING TROPHY

No. 1 Company of 11th Machine Gun Battalion Wins Holiday Contest

Victoria retained the May 24 Committee's shield by defeating three opposing teams from Vancouver and one from Mission at Bay Street Armories on Saturday afternoon. The results were as follows: First No. 1 Coy. of the 11th Machine Gun Batt. C.M.G.C.; second, No. 2 Coy. 11th Machine Gun Batt. C.M.G.C.

The other competing units were No. 3 Coy. 11th M.G. Batt.; Mission; Machine Gun Section Seaforth Highlanders, Vancouver; and Machine Gun Section Irish Fusiliers, Vancouver. This is the first year that units outside of the battalion have competed for this trophy. It was one of the hardest fought contests that Victoria has ever experienced the local team winning by two points on time alone. Members of the winning team were as follows: Sergeant J. Slater, Cpl. V. Harford, Pte. C. Regan, White and Baker.

The shield was donated by May 24 Committee in 1923 and has been competed for in Victoria every May 24 since.

Some Choice Rock Garden Plants

By JOHN HUTCHISON, F.R.H.S.

The family of Meconopsis is now very much in the eye of the rock-gardening world, owing probably to the fact that Meconopsis Baileyi has been proved to be a comparatively easy plant to grow and that it is a fairly good perennial, which most members of this family are not.

It is interesting to note that the name Baileyi apparently is not exactly correct. Farrer calls it M. simplicifolia Baileyi, while the Kew list calls it M. betulaefolia, but no doubt it will continue to be called and listed as Baileyi—right or wrong.

There is another meconopsis, which is just now attracting a good deal of attention. This is the so-called Hairbell poppy, Meconopsis quinquefolia. It was introduced by the late Reinhold Farrer from Northern Tibet, where he found it growing between altitudes 9,000 to 13,000 feet. While it may not have the splendour of some other members of this race, it is, in its own way, unrivalled.

The swaying bells of this plant are exquisite in their grace, and their color is the last word in delicate refinement. It is described as a delicate shade of lavender-blue, with an interior of silver grey.

SUPREME IN ITS RACE

Farrer says of this plant: "It is certain that it is going to prove the soundest perennial in the family, and so beautiful that the senses ache at the multitudinous loveliness of its myriad dancing lavender butterflies over the rolling upland Alps of the De-Tung chain. In fact in well-bedded, exquisite of charm it stands, in my eyes, supreme over its race."

The plant spreads by offsets and very soon a large clump is formed, which is the better for being divided after a year or two.

At the moment it is doubtful if this interesting meconopsis can be obtained in Canada, but the writer is assured that by next spring at the latest it will be obtainable.

THE QUESTION OF SEDUMS

To many people the Sedum family are dull and uninteresting. Even such a great authority as Farrer seems to have had little use for Sedums. He says of them: "As a race they are a whole, curiously uninteresting." This may be a fact, but there are some sedums that the writer would call absolutely essential to any rock garden which has hot, dry spots to fill. Taking just a few. Sedum Everestii is singularly charming, with quite short and half-trailing stems of nearly a foot, set at intervals with large oval-round, smooth-edged leaves in pairs, of a beautiful tone of pale powder-blue, and in good contrast with the ruby-crimson blossoms, in which the shoots conclude the late summer. It is native to all the country from Siberia to Kashmir and thrives like a weed. It is particularly useful as a late-flowering subject.

Sedum Dasycarpum is common in south Europe. Its leaves are of a bluish tone and are fat and globular, set on three-inch frail stems. Farrer describes the leaves as like swollen grey guttine capsules. The flowers are either pink or cold white and bloom in the summer.

England Has Chosen The Six Best Roses

The Rose Annual issued by the National Rose Society of England, the highest authority on such things, has just published its finding that Betty Upchurch, Etiole de Hollande and Madam Butterfly are the three best garden roses. Paul's Scarlet, Alberic Barbier and Emily Gray are chosen as the three best climbers. You won't want to plant them now, but note their names for fall planting. We shall have an ample stock of them, along with a great selection of many others.

lains of Lydia. It is only three inches high and forms dwarf and creeping mats of shoots, very thickly set with fat little cylindric leaves, and flowers are borne on branching sprays, so compressed and tightly packed that it seems a solid head of pink stars. It is altogether a worthwhile plant in any sunny or shady situation and will do well in a dry and in a damp place. Sedum Claveum, which is some- times called hispanicum, because, as Farrer says, it is never found in Spain, is very like Sedum Lydia, except that its leaves, instead of being green, are a blue-grey. The flowers are cream colored. FOR LATE BLOOM Among late-flowering subjects for the rock garden, Silene Schaffa is perhaps one of the greatest assets to the keen gardener. Its profuse, leafy tufts and wide masses are covered for months on end with a profusion of rosy-magenta flowers. It is so lavish in its bloom that it loses the refined air of a real Alpine perennial. It is of the easiest culture in almost any soil, and is a boon to the rock garden in August and September, when flowers are scarce.

AFTER THE LAND TRANSFER

WITHIN A SHORT TIME BRITISH Columbia will repossess the Railway Belt and the Peace River Block. When this great land transfer is consummated, it is to be hoped the provincial government will round out the scheme with the national park development which was being arranged when the former government left office. That ministry proposed, as part of the general readjustment between the Dominion and the province, to set aside several large areas for national parks. These were to be taken over by the federal parks administration to form a part of the national park system. Suitable areas in the interior, possibly including one or more of the present provincial parks, and a block of forest land on the west coast of Vancouver Island, contiguous to the West Coast Road, were proposed for these purposes. The desirability of developing these resorts under the splendid parks administration of the Dominion was everywhere recognized. The project, including an Island park of unique character, was of special interest to Victoria.

In completing the final details of the railway land transfer Premier Tolmie insisted on excluding from the negotiations all matters not directly connected with these areas. He said he feared that if the proposed agreement became too involved it might never be completed. At the same time he has made it clear more than once that his government is prepared, once the transfer is finished, to consider any reasonable proposal of park development by the federal government here. We hope he will not merely wait for something to turn up, but will himself take the lead in carrying on the scheme as sponsored by his predecessor. This, of course, is primarily a matter of concern to British Columbia, and the initiative must come from this province.

LIQUOR TROUBLES OF OTHER DAYS

WE ARE REMINDED BY AN INTER-esting article in the May issue of The National Revenue Review of some of the liquor problems which had to be faced in this country nearly a quarter of a century before Confederation. It tells us of a meeting of the Governor and Council of Assiniboia at Fort Garry in 1845 to consider ways and means of strengthening the preventive service of those days. Rum traffic with the Indians apparently was going on apace, and the law was "found to be, in a great measure, inoperative, for want of evidence, by reason of the interested reluctance of the Indians, and the mistaken delicacy of the settlers." A new schedule of fines for those convicted of "furnishing the means of intoxication" to Indians was agreed upon as follows:

Resolved, That the furnishing of any vessel for the purpose of brewing, or of preparing to brew, shall incur a penalty of two pounds; the furnishing of malt or grain for the purpose of brewing, or of preparing to brew, shall incur a penalty of five pounds; and the furnishing of distilled liquors, or of any other means of intoxication, a penalty of ten pounds, each variety being a separate offence.

The question arose of disposal of funds collected as fines. The Council felt that "respectable individuals will be more ready to interpose for the vindicating of the law, if they are cleared from the suspicion of interested motives." It was finally decided that "all the penalties and fines and seizures and forfeitures shall be enforced and appropriated and divided according to the tenor of the sixth of these resolutions."

This sixth resolution is unique and sets forth some interesting decisions: "It is resolved that all seizures shall be effected by the constables, or in the absence of a sufficient number of the same, by any person or persons whatever, and shall be equally divided between the public fund, and the seizing party; and that all its general forfeitures, which may accrue through any conviction of felony or any outlaws, and also all its specific penalties and discretionary fines, shall go to the public fund alone."

So the seizing party was to receive half of the immediate seizure.

The Council's minutes disclose the fact that a great fur company had "intimated its intention of immediately establishing a distillery in compliance with the often repeated solicitations of the settlers." Up went the penalties fixed by the Council for illicit competition, because now "unauthorized distillation shall become more criminal when it shall be rendered less excusable." On its part "the Honourable Company has further undertaken to reduce its native spirits to proof strength, and to lunge them, if possible, with a peculiar hue not easily imitated."

As for the unlucky man found in possession of "any spirits of a different strength or hue; he shall be held to be guilty under the last resolution, and shall incur the penalties and liabilities thereof, unless he can satisfactorily account for such difference of hue and strength, or may prosecute to conviction some person more guilty in the matter than himself."

THE STRAW VOTE ENDED

IF THE PEOPLE OF THE UNITED States in the mass were permitted to say whether the Volstead law should be repealed or remain in force, it would appear from the straw vote which The Literary Digest has recently taken that the country soon would go "wet" again. But the constitution of the republic can not be changed that way. Two-thirds of the members of Congress first must vote for the repeal of any part of it and then obtain the endorsement of thirty-six out of the forty-eight states. There is no indication yet, of course, that the government at Washington will be influenced to take any action as a result of what seems to be a change of sentiment in many parts of the country.

Although only 4,606,464 votes out of a total of 20,000,000 were marked. The Digest considers this number an "unparalleled return," and says that so many votes indicates that the American people are more deeply stirred by the existing prohibition situation than they were even by the Hoover-Smith contest . . . which, incidentally, the magazine was able to forecast by means of a similar poll of the nation's voters.

An analysis of the ballot shows that forty per cent voted "wet," twenty-nine per cent "moist," and thirty-one per cent "dry." Of these, 1,943,052, or 40.43 per cent of the total favored outright repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and all that goes with it. Another 1,399,314 cast their ballots for modification of the Volstead law. This was 29.11 of the total. The other 1,464,098, or 30.46 per cent, urged strict enforcement of the existing measure.

In the flood of "wet" and "moist" votes, five states stand clear with "bone-dry" majorities: Kansas, Arkansas, North Carolina, Oklahoma and Tennessee; while three of the eastern seaboard states—Connecticut, New Jersey, and Rhode Island—have rolled up majorities of over fifty per cent for repeal, with New York close behind them. It is problematical, however, how far these pretty substantial straws can be trusted to indicate how the wind would really blow if this tempestuous question were an actual political issue.

They show, not unnaturally, that the "wets," who in the present state of things are the aggrieved parties, are more ready than the "drys" to register their discontent. But they probably leave out of account a vast part of the population to whom Prohibition is not the exciting issue it seems to be highly visible protagonists, but who accept it without comment and would not be in the least disposed in an actual contest to vote for its repeal.

THE UNITED STATES KNOWS

ONE OF THE MOST CURIOUS ARGU-ments raised by Conservative politicians against the Dunning budget is that its extension of the British Preference, although it applies to more than 500 separate articles, is largely on paper. Mr. Bennett says it is simply camouflage, as Canada is giving tariff preference mainly to articles which it never imports from Britain. Mr. Stevens, his lieutenant in Vancouver, calls the extended preference a feeble gesture towards empire trade. And though Mr. Bennett, Mr. Stevens, and the others all blame the government for increasing the preference at all, they blame it in the same breath for not increasing it enough to affect our trade.

The latter idea is probably the more specious of the two, for combined with the new countervailing duties the preference changes unquestionably will have a profound effect on our commerce. Those whose business will feel these changes directly know best how much importance to attach to them, and nowhere are they observed with greater interest than in the United States, in which we buy and sell on a large scale. They know that under this budget Britain will get business the republic has been getting.

"For the sake of a fancied protection which in fact would be chimerical, we are consciously giving Canada inducements to turn to England for the goods which she has been buying by the millions from the United States," says The New York Times, perhaps the most influential newspaper in the United States. "Short-sighted greed seems to be making short shrift of Yankee shrewdness." It adds despairingly, however, that "it would be asking too much to urge Congress to think of the larger aspects of the question, to bear in mind that with no country are our relations so important as with Canada."

United States business men, thinking in terms of dollars and cents, know that Canada, through the Dunning budget, means to increase empire trade. Conservative politicians here profess to see nothing substantial in this movement because they are thinking, instead, in terms of votes.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

STILL "STEPPING ON IT"
The Business Week (New York)
Little wonder some foreigners think us a peculiar race. We pour out funds and wholehearted sympathy to other peoples in distress from fire, flood or famine; in many ways we indicate our innate soft-heartedness and sentimentality. Still we take more or less for granted the killing each week of approximately 165 persons by automobile accidents.

During the four weeks ended February 22, seventy-eight large cities of the country reported 564 deaths from automobile accidents according to Department of Commerce figures. The trend continues upward. Not only this, ninety-eight more deaths than occurred during the same period in 1929, but the total deaths for the fifty-two weeks ending February 22, 1930, were 8,545, against 7,559 for the previous fifty-two week period.

In only seventeen of the seventy-eight cities were total deaths during the last four-week period less than in 1929; in only sixteen cities were total deaths for the last three centuries, but who has made the mistake here, at least, concerted and successful efforts are being made to reduce this frightful total of human lives offered on the altar of "Speed."

MR. ANDERSON AND THE FRENCH LANGUAGE
The Sherbrooke Tribune

Not content with declaring war on the crucifix and on nuns, Anderson has now banned the use of the French language in every school assembly. Formerly, to be eligible as a school commissioner, it was enough to read and write. Now it is necessary to read and write English. No exception is made in favor of the French language. This means that a Canadian from Quebec, whose family has inhabited the country for the last three centuries, but who has made the mistake of only being able to speak French (one of the official languages of the country) will not be able to be a school commissioner, while an immigrant residing in the country for a few years, but who has learned to speak English, will be eligible.

A GREAT CANADIAN
The Manitoba Free Press

A modesty that never recognized its intellectual power; a simplicity that, forbade insistence upon the place won over and over again before the Canadian Bar, before the highest courts of the empire, and in international legal circles; a physical courage that dominated the legislative assembly; an integrity of professional rectitude which carried the poorest client's case with the same intensive care that was given to the cases of glittering prestige; a gentle courtesy that made him sought out by the beginners in the profession even of his enemies; it is these that made Canada measurably poorer by the death of Eugene Lafleur, K.C.

Loose Ends

On opening the summer camp—a matter which you won't understand unless you have done it yourself for it is a sacred rite, including the inspection for spiders, the old records—and other strange things.

By H. B. W.

IF YOU HAVE invested your spare cash wisely in a summer camp, no matter how small and how primitive, now is the season when you are reaping your largest dividends. Midsummer, no doubt, is essentially camp time, but there is something about the labor of opening the camp after the winter more thrilling even than the full enjoyment of your efforts later on. There is high adventure in opening the summer camp, withdrawal from those who do not understand the meaning of the word "camp," and the feeling of being a pioneer in the full sense of the word.

IN THIS first place, there are bound to be startling discoveries at the summer camp after the winter. At first place we always look to the larger first to see what have the mice have wrought in our supplies of beans, tea, flour and other things. It invariably exceeds our worst fears. Next we go through a rite known since time immemorial in this establishment as "inspecting for spiders," which means turning out all the bedding, searching every foot of wall space and examining all dark corners with the aid of a lantern. And then, again, before we venture into any of the beds it is part of the ritual to turn down the clothes and see that nothing has crawled in to keep warm during the winter. And besides the mice and spiders, we usually find traces of other invaders. Last year some squirrels made a storehouse of pine cones in the china cupboard, and this spring some wandering cats ate off the tops of all the fifteen tulips which we had planted with such care in the preceding autumn.

THE GREAT thing about the summer camp, as you have found if you own one, is the air of antiquity which grows upon it while it is still only a few years old. Our first impulse, after dealing with the mice and inspecting for spiders, is to crank up the ancient gramophone and play some "tune" like "Dardenella," "Patches" or "Whispering" (much scratched and very squeaky after all these years of use), and listen to it with a delicious sense of old age and ruined hopes. Though it is fifth-rate music, it recalls many a lovely time in days when we were young and carefree and who come to the camp. There is the sound of many cries in many an old and battered record which the best radio cannot provide, and in these days of classical concerts broadcast from the world's great cities, a gramophone seems to have taken on an air of almost venerable respectability. It makes you think of the time when you were a child and such a crude instrument as this seemed the ultimate of human invention.

THERE IS a sober satisfaction, too, in rummaging through those inevitable piles of old magazines which are the sacred relics of any well-managed camp, and to which one clings desperately in the face of all efforts of good housekeepers to remove them. You can read in old print that the war is sure to be over before Christmas, 1914, that the Kaiser is to be tried and hanged, or that some eminent authority is quite sure four-wheel brakes can never be a success. And you note that we are just back again where we started, for skirts were long then, too, and no one suspected what heights of fashion they were going to reach in an era now happily closed.

UP NEAR our camp there is a little farm of eight acres where we go of an old time Jersey cow and Jersey cows who live there. At the old farm we find an air of quiet content and well-being which we have not known all winter. The farmer who has been this little patch out of the forest, drained it and made it produce his living, always greets us with delight, for he invariably has much to show us, and with a pride which we can understand. We must, of course, see the new calf, a heifer (thank heaven, for there has been an unbroken succession of the other sex lately), and another one is expected any day. We are elated to learn that the oldest Jersey cow had milked a month back and lay down to die; but as relieved when the farmer tells us how he rowed down the lake four miles and walked another ten to get a veterinarian, who arrived in the nick of time. Of course we have to be introduced to the six young pigs which are being fattened for the fall, and it makes us melancholy to think how little they know of the fate awaiting them.

THE POTATOES are all in now, the peas are up, three white hens have produced families and the bay mare seems as sound as she was when we first knew her twelve years back. The old farmer, having had all his teeth out, is sounder, too, and hasn't had an attack of the rheumatism all winter. True, he has been unable to eat beefsteak, since instead of chewing his food he has had "to gum it and live on porridge and suchlike slops." Still, he doesn't have a pain before summer is in the air, and he is contented. In the time there is such an air of contentment on this little patch of eight acres in the wilderness that we wonder why we vex our souls in the city.

ON THE way back to the camp we stop for a moment to greet old Bob McKenzie, who has just emerged from his winter house after resting there all winter like a bear in its den. As usual, he is on his wharf painting his boat, a process so regular that you may be sure that it is the third week in May when you see that it is under

NOT THEIRS

To the Editor:—We notice in Sunday's Colonist that we were given the credit for the "Pirate Plot" which paraded on the 24th of May. This is wrong, as the plot was the labor of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Victoria West School.

RE CENTRAL SCHOOL GROUNDS

To the Editor:—It is opportune just now to call the attention of the old boys and the younger boys as well to the work the Victoria Horticultural Society is doing on the Yates Street grounds of the Central School grounds. The society has picked itself out a plot to plant but also to keep in order the portion we are now working on. Whether we are to develop the remainder of the grounds from the fire hall down to Ormond Street, depends upon the help we can count on to keep the garden properly tended after it is planted.

It is curious but true that the calls for volunteers for this work both last year and this, have failed to bring out a single person who could properly be called a native of Victoria.

Are the old boys of the Central School sufficiently interested in their old school or in the improvement of their city to give practical support to the work we are doing by turning out any one night a month with a hoe or a rake to help make one of the most prominent places in the city a beauty spot instead of an eyesore?

WHAT THE PEOPLE WANTED

To the Editor:—The Dunning budget is an unaccountably good sample of practical politics. What better can be expected of politicians than to give people what they want? The budget has done just that. Incidentally it has deprived the opposition of all sense and the time to trump up a new one is short.

Protectional orators can no longer get it in their heads to demand higher duties on foreign goods. The protection of British Columbia is without adequate protection. The British preference increase should be very popular. The Mother Country gives us every facility to trade with her and we ought to have reciprocated better long ago; no doubt there will be beneficial results on both sides and a corresponding increase of goodwill. But, regarding some of the protectionist features (for that is what they are) of the

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES, MAY 26, 1905

This afternoon the firemen and baseball teams monopolize the sport for the celebration. At 3 o'clock the firemen's sports began on Yates Street, between Blanshard and Broad. Later in the afternoon, beginning at 3.30 the baseball game between Victoria and Bellingham will be played at the Oak Bay Park.

Weather Forecast—Victoria and Vicinity—Light to moderate winds, continued fine and warm.

Victoria went right into the air yesterday afternoon in the baseball game played against Everett at the Oak Bay Park, the final being 10 runs to 3 in favor of the Everett nine.

Owing to the exceedingly small crowd attending, the twenty-fourth boxing match which was to have been held last evening, between Bert Clarke and Tony Vassur, was postponed.

To-morrow the steamer Henriette, belonging to S. F. McKenzie of Vancouver will enter regular service on the Victoria, Vancouver and northern coast run. She will make a round trip every ten or twelve days. The ship steams about ten knots an hour. She has accommodation for thirty passengers and cargo space for 1,400 tons dead weight and 2,000 tons measurement.

budget, nobody knows better than Mr. Mackenzie King and those around him, that there must be a "come back" after a while. However, they were perfectly justified in giving people a little dose of what they asked for. After the consumers have had the pleasure of enjoying good Canadian butter, eggs, etc., at good Canadian prices, a new light may break on them. Protection inevitably raises prices. That is what it is for. But a little lesson may be a wholesome thing.

As for the hen men and dairymen, relief, as they ought to know, does not lie in the direction of increased protection, but the reverse. Relief lies in the direction of freer trade in their supplies, cost of living, and in reduced freight rates on food.

What is protection, this one-plank platform of the Conservative Party, good for? They say it protects us against foreign producers. But no foreign producer can make us buy anything we do not want. Goods are not imported because foreigners want to sell them, but because Canadians want to buy them. What we import are goods; good things. Things we want so much that we are willing to pay for them. Tariffs protect us against ourselves. They stop us from buying what we want and where we want, and force us to buy inferior articles at higher prices.

This province is fairly well protected now from cheap commodities. On the east we have the long and mountainous coast, on the west a great ocean, on the north, eternal winter, and on the south our own Uncle Sam's present tariffs. Has all this protection, natural and artificial, made business good or lowered the cost of living? For anything we know it has had the opposite effect. Then why have more protection when we are in crying need of less? Because the big barons of privilege in the land, who control the Conservative Party, wish to squeeze more dividends out of us, and we, like simple simons, elect an almost solid Tory contingent to go to Ottawa and protect us out of our bread and butter.

Trade never takes place unless both parties are benefited. Goods naturally flow from where they are relatively cheap to where they are relatively dear. Nature is altogether for trade and against restrictions. We assist nature by digging canals, dredging harbors, building lighthouses, roads, railroads, etc. Then we turn round and obstruct nature by clapping on a protective tariff. Where is the logic of it all? Protection bears more heavily on married men than on bachelors; on those who have children than on those who have none; on those who are barely able to support their families than on those who have incomes which leave them a large surplus. Protection as a theory cannot bear analysis. It is based on the most casual examination. "Every political truth must be a moral truth. Yet who can accept the protective theory as a moral truth?"

Mr. Mackenzie King, one of the best friends British Columbia has ever had. First and last he has made some

WHERE R-100 WILL "LAND"

Extensive preparations for handling the huge crowds who are expected to greet the monster dirigible upon its arrival at St. Hubert Air Field, near Montreal, from England, are being made by the Canadian National Railways. Special trains will be operated from Bonaventure Station to St. Hubert, where trackage is being installed specially for the handling of this service. The photographs show: Left, the huge mooring mast constructed in preparation for the arrival of the R-100. INCREASED EMPIRE TRADE IS OBJECTIVE

King Government Sees Growing Field For Commerce, Says Motherwell in Speech in Ontario

Special to The Times
North Gower, Ont., May 26.—The Dunning budget is no departure from Liberal principles, but is founded on the conclusion that in future Canada must look more and more to Empire markets for her trade, said Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, during a speech here Empire Day. If the content of the budget be taken as 100, Mr. Motherwell said, seventy-five would represent increases in the British preference, fifteen should be given to countervailing duties, the principle of which were already embodied in the tariff schedules, and ten would go to seasonal duties in fruits and vegetables which were necessary to make the British preference more effective. POSITION OF EUROPE "One does not require to be a very keen observer of European tariffs and restrictive milling tendencies in the exclusion of foreign wheat and other commodities from their respective countries," he declared, "to be forced to the conclusion that Canada should more and more cultivate the British market both in selling and buying. With Premier Brand already busy in the preliminary stages of organizing an economic United States of Europe, and the United States of America being already very much existent as an economic unit, there is no other option left than further to expand the British preference and intra-empire trade conception, fast becoming more popular all over the British Commonwealth. AT CONFERENCE "The question that every farmer, indeed every elector, will require to ask himself at the forthcoming election is whether Premier King, with his well-known intra-empire trade outlook, of Mr. Bennett with his equally well-known high tariff and restricted sense-borne trade policy, will be in the better position to serve Canada at the forthcoming Empire Economic Conference in London next September."

TWO WRONGLY PUT IN PRISON ARE FREED

Ottawa, May 26.—After spending seven months in the Kingston Penitentiary for a crime which they were innocent, Lionel Fontaine and Ernest Tacasse returned to their homes here Saturday. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, wired instructions to the penitentiary to release the innocent youths on parole. Missed with the feeling of relief at being free is a sensation of bitterness in connection with the trial at which they were found guilty. They are emphatic compensation must be given them for the time they were imprisoned. They express a desire for a new trial on their case through which they could be honorably acquitted. $5 GIVEN TO EACH "Before our arrest we were steadily employed," Fontaine said. "On leaving the prison we were presented with $3 each. How long will that last?" Fontaine drew a four-year term and Lacasse a term of two years when they were found guilty by an Ottawa court of holding up Arnold Simpson and robbing him of $375 early in the morning of November 2, 1929. They were convicted mainly on the milk driver's identification of them as the bandits. In March last, after a lengthy investigation which followed rumors that the wrong men had been convicted of the crime, police arrested Duncan Laroque and Eugene Barbara. At their trial on April 11, this pair pleaded guilty to the hold-up and were each sentenced to two-year reformatory terms.

Seek Change In Immigration Rules For Visiting Yachts

Friction between owners of visiting yachts and the Dominion Government Immigration inspectors over the method of inspection here was drawn to the attention of the Victoria Chamber-of Commerce on Friday by the Royal Victoria Yacht Club. The Yacht Club had learned of onerous conditions existing in this system. It was stated, and the chamber was asked to investigate the situation. It was pointed out the tourists visiting here by yacht and launch were an asset to the city and should be more easily accommodated. The port committee of the chamber will consider the matter.

COMPANY BILLS ARE APPROVED BY COMMONS

Ottawa, May 26.—A notice for production of papers, moved by E. R. E. Chevier, Liberal, Ottawa, was passed by the Commons this forenoon. The motion asked for a return showing amount of all increases, adjustments of bonuses, allowances, etc., granted to the Civil Service of Canada, both inside and outside services, since the first day of January, 1922, and similar increases, bonuses and allowances during the same period granted to employees of the Federal Government not under the Civil Service Commission. The House then went into committee on private bills. There were two of these, one an act respecting the capital stock of the Prudential Trust Co., and the other an act to incorporate the Hamilton Life Insurance Co. Both bills received final approval. A resolution in the name of the Minister of Justice asking the approval of the House on the recommendation of the conference on the operation of Dominion Legislation and merchant shipping legislation, held last year in London, was stood over until this afternoon.

Petaluma, Cal., May 26.—Her skull fractured when the automobile in which she and her parents were on a vacation tour of California, was struck Saturday by an electric train, Miss Frances M. J.B.A.A. DANCE DREW BIG CROWD

Over 300 at Regatta Function Saturday Night

The regatta dance at the James Bay Athletic Association Clubhouse Saturday evening drew the largest crowd in the history of these popular May 24 functions, over three hundred members and their friends dancing with evident enjoyment in this handsome and commodious rendezvous. For the occasion the quarters had been attractively decorated in the club colors under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary.

During the evening, Mrs. James Elrick, wife of the reeve of Esquimalt, presented the prizes and trophies to the winning carmen in the regatta, and also officiated at the drawing of the chest contest, held under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary. Miss Hoson of Douglas Street, being the winner with ticket No. 1097. Mrs. Elrick was presented with a beautiful bouquet by Miss Margaret Ross, on behalf of the J.B.A.A.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Gerald Lamerton, Wychbury Avenue, and her sister, entertained at the tea hour on Friday afternoon in honor of the birthday of their mother, Mrs. Eade, who is visiting here from Cornwall, England. The invited guests included: Mesdames W. Burley, F. Nancarrow, Read, Holmes, Soares, Eglis, Campbell (Peniston), Blair, Hyworth, Spelman, Zala, Lapham, Lamerton, Eade and B. Eade.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Angus, 1092 Erie Street, have returned from a ten-day motor tour of the interior, having driven via Fraser Canyon Road to Kelowna, returning via Wenatchee Valley and spending a short time at Bieweite Pass. Mr. and Mrs. Angus were accompanied as far as Kelowna by Mr. A. B. Platt of Winnipeg, and in returning spent some days in Vancouver.

MAY QUEEN IS CROWNED WITH GLORY

Simple and Colorful Ceremony at Beacon Hill Marks Holiday Celebration

School Children Hold Sway Over Revelries in Bright Sunshine

Amidst such a pleasing and glorious riot of color and glimmer as has never been seen before at a similar event, May Queen Bronwen Mott-Nowell received the homage of Victoria's populace at Beacon Hill Park Saturday morning.

Seated high up on the throne of the specially constructed stand, her golden locks streaming behind in the breeze, the pretty fifteen-year-old High School miss typified every part of her regal role. For hundreds of feet around her the populace over whom she ruled for the day watched the coronation ceremony and then in one mighty burst of applause acclaimed their queen. The crowd was variously estimated at from 8,000 to 7,000 people.

Undoubtedly one of the most attractive features of the well-timed holiday programme, this ceremony reflected great credit upon the school board members, teachers and other officials who organized it. Well over 800 children took part and all were garbed in colored uniforms, which made a remarkable scene under the glare of a bright sun.

PARTY NIGHT
The stand were school-girls—beating purple, blue, green, yellow, orange and red sashes, 183 in all, and presenting a pretty sight. After the opening chorus of "O Canada"—these happy maidens trooped down the grassy sward to make a signal with flags indicating the arrival of the queen.

Clad in her royal robes of white, Queen Bronwen marched with stately mien through the colorful archway formed by the girls.

Frances Graham, Doris Erith, Grace Farr and Kathleen Morris, the four heralds in their suits of red, preceded her Majesty.

The dainty Toms sisters, Doreen and Joan, from Victoria West School, were the queen's train bearers, and then came the three pages in blue, Harold Burden, Hugh Ferguson and Darrell Popham of Boys' Central.

The sixteen princesses, all clad in white, concluded this procession to the throne. They were Fayle Bodsworth, Bank Street School; Frances Lav, Bank Street School; Edna Leckie, Beacon Hill School; Marguerite MacLeod, Kingston Street School; Mary Barker, Quadra Primary School; Marguerite Binnie, Spring Ridge School; Vivian E. Markness, Burnside School; Betty Mulliner, Girls' Central School; Selma Wille, George Jay School; Bernice Urwin, Margaret Jenkins School; Marguerite Davies, North Ward School; Isabel Shireff, Oaklands School; Elizabeth Stephenson, Quadra School; Katherine Soesta, Sir James Douglas School; Jean Burnett, South Park School; and Betty Windie, Victoria West School.

QUEEN IS CROWNED
The coronation ceremony was simple, but impressive. Mayor Ansonby received the gilded coronet from the hands of a page and placed it upon the brow of the fair queen, bestowing upon her the honor and glory attendant upon it and assuring her of the loyalty of her people.

Three hundred youthful voices then combined in the May song, "Come, Ladies and Lords, standing up to face the stiff southwesterly breeze, their ribbons and flags crackling and waving, they made brave and patriotic picture for the huge crowd assembled on the field below the stand.

Dances by the children on the platform in front were then conducted. Ten girls from Oaklands School and sixteen girls from the Willow and Oak Bay Schools joined in the two Maypole dances. The Irish jig was done by twelve girls of Sir James Douglas School, and a dainty minuet was performed by Esquimalt schoolgirls. The folk dance, "Kamapikake," done by North Ward girls, was especially attractive, and the "Bacon Pipe Jig" by Quadra School boys, concluded this part of the festivities.

HONORS TO HER SUBJECTS
Queen Bronwen then bestowed honors upon her subjects in the form of prizes won in competitions connected with the celebration. Winners of the ex-service organizations' essay competition, the winning teams in the costume contest of the parade and the winners in the decorated bicycle section received their awards at the hands of Her Majesty.

The ceremony concluded with "God Save the King."
Music throughout was supplied by the Victoria Boys' Band under the direction of O. H. E. Green. E. Wadlington led the choral singing, while the whole ceremony was under the direction of W. H. Muncy, principal of Quadra Street School.

Following were the dancers taking part in the ceremony:
Willows Public School dancers—Josephine Harnard, Kathleen Turner, Gladys Richmond, Mary Saunders, Norma Brain, Jean Broughton, Joy Winsley, Joe Harnard, Shirley Daw, Vivian Harrison, Owen Thomas, Fay Smith, Amy Harnard, Doris Monroe, Jo Ann Brown.
Esquimalt Elementary—Teacher, D. Willing. Dances, French, minuet. Dancers Eva Elston, Jean McConnell, Gladys Clement, Muriel Ross, Elfrida Hubbard, Mary Croys, Dorothy Jones, Rachel McLean, Evelyn Oliver, Patricia Rosseter, Virginia Simpson, Marguerite Jenkins, Sylvia Moncton, Barbara Scott.

Not one has paid a cent for service

NEW "VEGETABLE PAN"
Here is a closed compartment in which you can keep vegetables fresh and crisp for days at a time. The vegetable pan is a new feature of the General Electric refrigerator and makes it even easier to use.

WHAT greater proof of the supreme efficiency and economy of the General Electric Refrigerator could you ask?

Not a cent for service! What is it that makes such a record possible? Look at that small round unit on top of the General Electric cabinet. Your answer is there . . . the answer which tells you why the General Electric Refrigerator is the least expensive refrigerator you can own.

In that amazing unit on top is housed the entire mechanism of the General Electric Refrigerator . . . sealed airtight against dirt, rust, moisture—and trouble. And sealed up with it is a permanent supply of oil, that will protect the mechanism thoroughly in the years to come.

Not a cent for service . . . but that's not all! The attractive General Electric cabinets are now built of all steel. You will find them as durable and efficient as the remarkable mechanism that preserves your food within them.

New Vegetable Pan . . . accessible freezing regulator . . . easy-cleaning features . . . low running cost . . . quiet operation . . . these are outstanding advantages of the General Electric Refrigerator. Come in today and let us tell you about our surprisingly easy terms.

YOUR BABY and MINE

Mrs. E. J. Alexander of Seattle, who has been visiting in Victoria over the week-end as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cochrane, Linden Avenue, will leave on Wednesday for Portland to join her husband, Prof. J. L. Alexander, and will accompany him and his student group on a tour of inspection of forestry operations in Oregon and Northern California. Prof. Alexander, who was also the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cochrane at the week-end, has left for Portland.

ASSOCIATIONS BETWEEN SMALL CHILDREN SELDOM HARMFUL

Mothers willingly admit that what they fear most is that their supposedly model children will be spoiled by association with children who are "not as good as they should be." Mothers inevitably see great flaws in the neighborhood children.

Let us look back on our own children. For the gentleman wasn't just wrong who said, "I know children because I was once a child." We'll remember, if we're honest, that all of our playmates were far from being models. But did that ruin us? Of course not. We remained pretty much what our parents had made us.

Most children have identical experiences some of them less ideal than we might wish. Most children, if under the influence of good homes, loving, understanding and sensible parents "turn out" well.

MOTHERS WORRY NEEDLESSLY

We have heard too much of that old saw about the bad apple spoiling all in the sack, so we worry unnecessarily about the effect the behavior of other children will have on our own. Naturally we are not talking of the child of adolescent age but of the young child just beginning to run outdoors for long hours and find playmates upon satisfying than mother and home.

Suppose the five-year-old next door uses "bad" words. Suppose she does talk back to her mother, and pound her head on the floor when she wants her own way, and grab your children's toys and rule the playmates? Suppose why should this necessarily "ruin" your own child of this age?

TREAT SITUATION CALMLY
Remember that your child is dealing always with you, and not with the neighbor who is responsible for her child's actions. You have handled your child so differently that he has found it useless to get his way by having a temper tantrum. You have made him understand that you do not talk to him in a mean way, and you do not expect him to talk to you that way. He finds you unmoved by language which he does not hear at home; you may even pretend to find it difficult to understand what he is saying and ask him to explain himself in some other way. You never get shocked, though. No, indeed.

You do not call his attention to the bad behavior of the other child and hold her up as a shocking example. You make friends with this child. You notice and show appreciation of her good qualities and ignore those of which you do not approve.

Your children are under your direct influence from birth. Why should the temporary influence of some other child, no matter how startlingly different his behaviour, tear down the character you have been building up carefully for these many years? We know, if we only think, that it is an absurd fear.

DANCE REVUE TO BE HELD

Pupils of Dorothy Wilson in Recital at Royal Theatre on June 7

Dorothy Wilson will produce another dance revue at the Royal Victoria Theatre this year for one night only, on Saturday, June 7. The annual revue by this school, of which this will be the sixth, is regarded as one of the outstanding entertainments of the year. The director, Dorothy Wilson, has gained a reputation as an artist in the presentation of colorful effects following each other in swift succession and full staging and striking costumes.

This year's presentation will be entirely different and many novel and unusual features are included in the programme. A special feature will be the appearance of a former Victoria girl, Winifred Salmon, who until recently was assistant teacher with Ernest Belcher, of movie fame. This clever and fascinating dancer will give three dances from her repertoire.

Favorites Advance In Opening Matches of British Amateur

THE SPORTS MIRROR

BOBBY JONES is in Great Britain to start a strenuous campaign for four championships, the British Amateur and Open, and then return to the United States to seek the amateur and open there. If he can go through these four playing the kind of golf that wins, he will establish himself (if indeed, he is not already so established) as the greatest golfer of all time. For golf is a business, and the same thing to a well-ordered set of nerves that a playful kitten can do to a skunk of woolen thread.

Jerry Travers was supposed to own a set of nerves that he could keep pretty well handuffed. Travers went about the greens and fairways with a face that bore all the enthusiastic expression of a cold storage egg. With silent tongue and immobile features, he became known as the poker face of golf. The only symptoms he ever betrayed of the turmoil that must have gone on within him were occasional flicks of his club after his shots, and you had to be a mind reader to analyze these.

Yet for all of Travers' granite countenance he suffered. During the night before his last match in England he lay awake all night, tossing, turning, planning, fretting, hoping. He had shot a 72 the day before. After a night of torture he went out to face a beaten man on 89.

Travers was magnificent at concentration. In 1915 at Baltusrol he needed nine par holes in a row to win. During the playing of these nine holes he was nothing outside of his game. Several times friends took his arm and spoke to him. He did not respond—he didn't even know they were there. He won by one stroke, but for days after he was on the verge of breakdown.

Jones has learned how to go along without the impetuous outbursts of his earlier days, taking his breaks philosophically, doing his best on every shot. He is happier as a golfer now than he was before George von Elm handed him that generous pasting back in 1926 at Baltusrol. Jones used to let his nerves explode quite often before that defeat, and he has von Elm to thank for the attitude he takes toward the game today.

But the most philosophical attitude in the world must fight to hold its place against the mounting stress of championship events this year. Imagine the constantly increasing pressure. Suppose he has gone through three of these events in victory and he is under the burden of winning two more to make it a clean sweep. Talk about your ninth lining with the lines loaded! This is a job for Hercules.

Sometimes we wonder if it isn't better to pop off once in a while and break the tension. During the British open at Sunningdale in 1926, Will Hill Melhorn broke a brassie across his knee and played magnificent golf after that. Who knows the answer, if any?

IMPORTANT BOUTS ARE SCHEDULED

Slattery, La Barba, Von Porat, Hudkins and Mandell All Fight This Week

Hudkins Will Tackle Veteran Dave Shade; Mandell vs. Matched With Myers

New York, May 26.—Quality rather than quantity is the keynote of the boxing programme this week.

The arenas at Philadelphia, St. Louis, Kansas City, Cleveland, Detroit and Louisville all will be dark so far as big time competition is concerned, but Chicago, New York, Boston and Los Angeles all have offerings of better than average quality.

When most of the other cities are concentrating on the heavier divisions New York's Garden will offer a ten-round engagement between Fidel La Barba, retired and undefeated flyweight champion and Bushy Graham, veteran title, N.Y., featherweight on Wednesday night. Graham will substitute for Kid Chocolate, who recently was injured in an automobile accident. Joe Dundee, of Baltimore, former welterweight champion, will meet Harry Mason in the ten-round semi-final.

Jimmy Slattery, recognized in New York state as light heavyweight titleholder, will take on a rough and ready customer in Pete Latro, former welterweight champion in a ten-round at the Boston Garden on Tuesday night. The Argentine A.A., in the same city, will offer a ten-round between Andy Callahan, Lawrence, Mass., lightweight, and Sammy Fuller, Boston, with Jack Sharkey due to occupy one of the ring-side seats to watch his stable mate, Callahan, in action.

PORAT RETURNS
Otto von Porat, Chicago Norwegian heavyweight, will return to the war at the Chicago stadium Wednesday against Jack Gagnon, who recently knocked out Tuffy Griffiths. Gagnon later lost on a decision in a return match with Griffiths and hardly figured to overturn a puncher of Von Porat's calibre. Paul Cavaller, Peterson, N.J., light heavyweight, will meet Larry Johnson, Chicago negro star, in the ten-round semi-final.

Ace Hudkins, of Lincoln, Nebraska, will take on Dave Shade, veteran Concord, Cal., middleweight, in a ten-round at Los Angeles on Tuesday and at Hollywood on Friday. Vito Doman, Hollywood heavyweight, will meet Benny Landolt, lightweights champion, will engage Spur Myers of Pocatello, Idaho, in a ten-round non-title fight at Indianapolis Thursday night.

Three Victoria Football Teams Beaten Saturday

Sanrich Thistles passed out of the Comnaught Cup soccer series at the Royal Athletic Park on Saturday morning when they were defeated 3-1 by St. Salvator's, crack Vancouver eleven. After holding the mainlanders scoreless in the first half, the Thistles weakened to allow their opponents to run through three goals before they were able to net their lone counter. Cook, Donald and Bradbury scored for St. Salvator's, while Joe Crowe netted the local team's only goal a few minutes before time.

Rookie Hurriers Begin To Come Through In Majors

Mahaffey In First Start For Athletics Halts Yanks' Streak

Former Member of Portland Coast League Team Allows New York Club Seven Hits and Team-mates Win 10-3; Leon Chagnon, Another Rookie, Pitches Well for Pittsburgh, But Loses; St. Louis Cardinals Win Over Chicago to Retain National League Lead.

The current rookie crop in the major leagues has been unusually good, producing a number of young sluggers who have been showing the older players a few things about hitting the ball. But it has not been particularly rich in good pitchers. In fact it was something of an event yesterday when two of the younger generation of hurlers turned in good games on one afternoon.

Leroy Mahaffey of the Philadelphia Athletics was the only winner of the two, making his first start for the world's champions. He turned back the New York Yankees in a neat fashion, stopping their batting spree with a seven-hit game to win, 10-3. Mahaffey came up this year from the Portland Pacific Coast League club.

Leon Chagnon of Pittsburgh pitched well in the second game of the Pirates' double header, but he could not cope with the experience of his rival, Red Lucas, and the Cincinnati Reds broke their losing streak with a 4-3 victory. The Pirates gave Cincinnati its tenth straight defeat in the ten-inning opener, by a 6-3 score.

Adolph Lugo of the New York Giants to four hits in ten innings as Brooklyn won, 4-3, for its nineteenth victory out of twenty-five games. The Robins found one rookie very useful, CARDS HOLD LEAD.

The projected battle of the National League's strike out article in the remaining game yesterday turned into a slugfest in which neither Bill Hallahan of St. Louis nor Charley Root of Chicago looked like the real star. St. Louis held the league lead by rallying for four runs in the seventh inning, and a 6-3 victory.

The fourth National League game, between Philadelphia and Boston, was rained out. Marberry gave the Boston Red Sox only three hits for a 5 to 0 shutout, as Washington won its fifth straight game from Boston.

Lyons pitched his sixth successive winning game for the Chicago White Sox, holding the Cleveland Indians to four hits, while Chicago pounded out sixteen hits to win, 9-1. He also achieved a record unequalled so far with his eighth victory in nine games.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Cleveland, May 26.—Ted Lyons won his sixth straight victory and brought his record for the season to eight wins and one defeat when he held the Indians to four hits here yesterday and beat them 9 to 1.

The White Sox pounded three Cleveland pitchers for sixteen hits and were assisted by some ragged defensive play on the part of the Indians.

Chicago R. H. E.
Cleveland 5 16 0
Batteries—Lyons and Riddle; Miller, Glatto, Shaffner and L. Sewell.

New York, May 26.—The Philadelphia Athletics finally halted the Yankee slugging yesterday after four straight defeats and won the final game of their series 10 to 3.

Leroy Mahaffey, a recruit right hander, turned the trick where his more famous mates had failed, holding New York to seven hits and shutting out Babe Ruth entirely.

Philadelphia R. H. E.
New York 10 11 0
Batteries—Mahaffey and Cochran; Perkins, Pipiras, Sherid, Wells and Dickey.

St. Louis, Mo., May 26.—The St. Louis Browns and the Detroit Tigers battled through nine wild, free-hitting innings yesterday afternoon, and when it was all over the Tigers were on the long end of a 9 to 8 score. The Tigers collected fifteen and the Browns thirteen hits. Gehring hit for the circuit in the first inning.

Detroit R. H. E.
St. Louis 8 13 1
Batteries—Gehring, Sullivan and Hargrave; Coffman, Holshauer, Collins, Himsey and Manion, Ferrell.

Washington, D.C., May 26.—Washington attacked and accounted for most of the scoring. Marberry holding the visitors to three hits. The score was 6 to 0.

Sammy West and Sam Rice led the Washington attack and accounted for most of the scoring. Marberry scattered the three blows of Boston and was never in danger.

Boston R. H. E.
Washington 0 3 0
Batteries—Durham, Lisenbee and Berry; Marberry and Spencer.

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Cincinnati, May 26.—After losing ten straight games the Reds came out of their slump here yesterday by winning the second contest of a double bill from the Pittsburgh Pirates by a count of 4 to 3. Pittsburgh won the first encounter, which went ten innings, 4 to 3.

Spencer, who went to the hill for the Pirates after the Reds had knotted the count in the first game by scoring twice in the ninth off Kromer, tripled and scored the winning tally on Grantham's sacrifice.

Red Lucas, who pitched the night cap, scored one winning run in the ninth on Meusel's single.

First game—
Pittsburgh R. H. E.
Cincinnati 4 13 0
Batteries—Kromer, Spencer and Hemmley; Root, Benton and Sukeforth.

Second game—
Pittsburgh R. H. E.
Cincinnati 3 10 0
Batteries—Chagnon and Hargreaves; Lucas and Goch.

Chicago, Ill., May 26.—The league-leading St. Louis Cardinals rallied for four runs in the seventh inning yesterday to defeat the Cubs 6 to 3, in their one-day series.

The Cubs led by 3 to 2 until the seventh, when infield displays gave the Cards a start and hitting gave them the necessary runs.

St. Louis R. H. E.
Chicago 6 11 1
Batteries—Hallam, Mac H. Bell and J. Wilson; Root, Teachout, Bush and J. Taylor, Hartnett.

Brooklyn, N.Y., May 26.—An error by Hughes Crite permitted the Robins to win a 4-3 decision over the New York Giants here yesterday after Adolph Lugo, veteran Cuban pitcher, held the men of McGraw to four hits in ten innings. Crite, with a play at the plate in prospect, fumbled.

Philadelphia at Boston, postponed; rain.

There are very few trainers who can boast of the record in different sports held by Tom Daly. Tommy is what is known as a trainer extraordinaire. He not only trains the Maple Leaf baseball club team of the International League in the summer, but still stays in form by training the Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League in the winter. Not only does Tommy keep the arms and legs of the athletes on the go but he keeps their minds in good trim. On a more than one occasion have Connie Smythe's boys come off the ice after a more than one day of a severe beating and inside of half an hour the same team will be back in the fight all smiles and ready to go battle with the best. That's why Connie Smythe keeps Tommy on the payroll and probably for the same reason that's why Mr. Solman has him for the ball club. Tommy has been twenty-one years training ball players and fourteen years fixing up hockey players and you have to be good to possess a record like that.

Tommy has been twenty-one years training ball players and fourteen years fixing up hockey players and you have to be good to possess a record like that.

Tommy is what is known as a trainer extraordinaire. He not only trains the Maple Leaf baseball club team of the International League in the summer, but still stays in form by training the Maple Leafs of the National Hockey League in the winter. Not only does Tommy keep the arms and legs of the athletes on the go but he keeps their minds in good trim. On a more than one occasion have Connie Smythe's boys come off the ice after a more than one day of a severe beating and inside of half an hour the same team will be back in the fight all smiles and ready to go battle with the best. That's why Connie Smythe keeps Tommy on the payroll and probably for the same reason that's why Mr. Solman has him for the ball club. It Flashes Great Speed to Capture Sea-flea Marathon

Ralph Bagley Drives Trim Little Craft to Easy Victory in First Annual Race for Trophy Presented by Daily Times; Johnny Wenger in Sad News Finishes Second; Better Motor Car Repairs, Favorite, Forced Out of Race; J.B.A.A. Boat Races Keenly Fought.

Flashing over the water at a speed of around forty miles an hour Ralph Bagley, driving It, captured the first annual hydroplane marathon for the beautiful trophy presented by The Times on Saturday afternoon. The It, representing a world of power, raced over the thirty-three mile course from the J.B.A.A. float at the Gorge to the Inner Harbor in 46 minutes 13 2/5 seconds. Bagley finished approximately three complete laps ahead of the second place boat, Sad News, with Johnny Wagner at the wheel. Dorothy, driven by Fred Francis, finished in third position.

The race was marred by a mishap to the favorite, Better Motor Car Repairs, with Norman Findler, driving which failed to complete the first lap. After getting off into the lead at the start the engine of this trim little craft failed at the C.N.R. bridge and Findler was forced out of the race. The Better Motor Car Repairs, winner of last year's Times race, was a hot favorite to capture this year's marathon.

LOTS OF INTEREST
The race created lots of interest, hundreds of people occupying vantage points on the course to watch the "flea" practically fly over the water at breath-taking speed.

Taking the lead on the first lap the It was always out in front. Bagley keeping his craft at least two laps ahead of the other three competitors. The motor on the winner was humming like a busy bee around a flower, and never once did it fail.

With a burst of speed the five craft got away at the start with Better Motor Car Repairs showing the way, closely followed by It, Dorothy, Sad News, and Keith Dorman in Miss Indian. The crowd anxiously awaited the completion of the first lap. It came racing down on the return trip half a mile in the lead, with Dorothy second, Miss Indian third, and Sad News fourth, while Better Motor Car Repairs was out of the race.

LAPS THE FIELD
Upon completion of the second lap It had lapped the other three boats, while they were in the same position. On the finish of the sixth lap the It had again lapped the field, while the Sad News had passed Miss Indian to go into third position, a half-mile behind the Dorothy.

Before the finish It had gained another lap and finished about fifteen minutes ahead of the second-placed boat. On the sixth lap the Sad News began to gain ground on the Dorothy.

Junior four—J. Mann, F. Ford, Ian Randall and E. Knight beat W. Burnett, C. Wray, J. Middleton and R. George by four lengths.

Senior doubles—The two novices, Art Sped and F. Francis, outwitted the veterans, S. A. Heron and Alan Wright, by a comfortable three lengths.

Norman Wallace In Great Comeback to Retain Golf Title

Defeats Goldwyn Terry, 1 Up, in Thirty-six-hole Final for Colwood Club Championship; Wallace Four Down at End of First Eighteen Holes; Terry Holds Lead After Second Hole Until Thirty-third When Champion Squares Match; G. Wilkinson Wins First Flight.

In one of the closest finals ever played here Norman Wallace retained his championship of the Colwood Golf Club yesterday, defeating Goldwyn Terry in the thirty-six-hole final, 1 up. After squaring the match at the thirty-third hole Wallace succeeded in winning the thirty-sixth to gain his victory after the thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth had been halved. Wallace made a great comeback to win. He was four down at the end of the first eighteen holes.

Wallace had a morning round of 84, while Terry checked in with a 78. In the afternoon the champion reeled off a 78, while Terry slipped to 83. After being down at the end of the first hole Terry squared the match on the second hole and after halving the third won the fourth to become one up. From this point, until the thirty-sixth hole Terry was never down, and it was a mighty tough match for him to lose after leading practically the entire way.

After finishing four down at the end of the first eighteen holes Wallace started out in the afternoon well, and proceeded to cut down Terry's lead until the match was all square on the thirty-third. The thirty-fourth was halved in four and thirty-fifth in five. Wallace won the thirty-sixth with a four to Terry's five.

These cards follow:

Hundreds Take Part In School Track Contests; Moss Street Is Winner

School Championships of Saanich, Esquimalt and City Decided in Monster Meets; Keen Competition Shown in All Divisions; Sir James Douglas Takes Senior Honors in Victoria Event.

Hundreds of young athletes from City, Saanich and Esquimalt public schools decided district track and field championships at the sports meets held in the different municipalities on Friday. A feature of the day was the showing of Sir James Douglas School, which won the senior and grand aggregate trophies at the Victoria school sports. Close behind that institution came George Jay and Oaklands, who finished in a tie for second place.

At Beaver Lake, Cloverdale carried off the majority of the honors among the Saanich schools while hundreds of parents and friends looked on. Lampon Street proved too strong for Esquimalt High in the tug-of-war contest, which featured the Esquimalt sports at the Memorial Park.

The grade school team weighing 990 pounds pulled over the high boys' team of 1,000 pounds in the first pull but dropped the second. In the third the extra weight of the younger lads accounted for victory.

JUNIOR HONORS SHARED

Oaklands and Girls' Central School finished deadlocked in the contest for the Junior Challenge Trophy in the Victoria meet. Throughout the entire programme the city youngsters showed a keen competition that kept hundreds of spectators on their toes from the first race to the final event.

In the 100-yard dashes, Yuen Wong, of George Jay, pounced his way to victory in the boys' open division, while Zoe Richards, of Girls' Central, captured the honors in the girls' section. In the relay races, close events were seen with the different runners regaining lost distances before the last man broke the tape.

Oaklands tug-of-war team pulled itself to victory in the feature event of the field section of the programme by taking the final from Quadra School.

Thrills galore were seen in the bike events when three of the riders piled up in a smash on the turn, apart from the shakings, none were hurt. Great credit is due to the officials in charge of the meet for the capable manner in which it was handled, as well as to the coaches from the different schools for the way they brought their students into shape.

HONORED GUESTS

Premier and Mrs. Tolmie, Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, members of the municipal council, and school board attended the Saanich contests at Beaver Lake and enjoyed the lengthy programme of events. The commercial class of the high school took the majority of events on the card.

At Esquimalt, Councillor Alex Lockett showed a pair of flying heels to the rest of the field in the 100-yard dash, and school board attended the Saanich contests at Beaver Lake and enjoyed the lengthy programme of events. The commercial class of the high school took the majority of events on the card.

Results of the different events on the three programmes follow:

VANCOUVER BOYS TAKE ROAD RACES

Roy Palmer and N. E. Krag of Terminal City First and Second in Seniors

Pat Kehoe of Same Club Captures Junior Event; Times Are Lowered

With Pat Kehoe winning the junior event and Roy Palmer and N. E. Krag finishing first and second in the senior contest, Vancouver stole the show at the Pro Patria Branch Canadian Legion, road race Saturday. Freddy Leffler, sturdy Y.M.C.A. junior, annexed second honors in the five-mile event, while Caesar Finnemore, the main hope for the city in the eight-mile grind, ran a good race to finish fourth.

Winners of both events beat the times registered in the races last year. Kehoe completed the five miles in twenty-nine minutes flat, against thirty minutes fifty-two seconds made in 1929 by George Williamson. Palmer edged the line in forty-six minutes five seconds in the senior race, lowering the mark of last year by more than two minutes.

PALMER TAKES LEAD Chester Bartruff, Portland entrant, led the field for the first mile, but failed to maintain his pace when Palmer and Krag of Vancouver forged to the front. The Terminal City men ran a steady race, neck and neck until they reached the Douglas Street Hill. Palmer shortened his stride and pulled ahead. As the City Hall he had a small margin over K. C. Harbord.

Following the race the runners were taken to the Y.M.C.A. for showers, and later proceeded to Beacon Hill to receive their prizes.

Major Herbert Anson and Alderman James Adam represented the city of Victoria and were enthusiastic spectators throughout the entire meet. They were greeted upon their arrival by Reeve James Mack.

LOCAL TEAMS WIN AND DRAW

Jokers Defeat Shores, Vancouver Ball Team, 12-3; Sons Draw

In the two exhibition baseball games played on Saturday at the Royal Athletic Park the Jokers defeated Shores, Vancouver nine, 12-3 in the evening game, while the Sons of Canada held the Mainlanders 5 to 7 in the afternoon. Both games drew good attendances.

In the afternoon fixture the teams just played the regulation nine innings. Parfitt and Cann twirled for the Sons, while Maslowe hurled for the Vancouver club. In the evening game Lidstone and Donaldson occupied the mound for the Jokers, while Morrow and Mitchell twirled for the visitors.

Love Affair of Girl Revolutionist
Forms Plot

With Bernice Claire, Alexander Gray, Noah Beery and other players of prominence in the cast, "Song of the Flame," a first National production of a musical play opened before an enthusiastic audience at the Capitol Theatre this afternoon. This widely-heralded picture, based on an opera of the same title, is of considerable magnitude, but even more than that, it unfolds a dramatic love story that will appeal to any motion picture audience.

Utilizing the original stage material as a ground work, the producers have constructed a timely and unusual screen story, gripping, thrilling and splendidly acted throughout.

"Song of the Flame" has to do with the love affair of a girl leader of the revolutionists and an aristocratic Polish soldier, who, naturally, is on the other side of the political fence.

Beautiful women, gorgeous gowns and gleaming shoulders in an exquisite setting make for eye appeal in the big reception scene at the chateau in "They Had to See Paris," which opened a three days' engagement to-day at the Playhouse Theatre. Will Rogers is starred.

The women who enacted the roles of royal personages were carefully selected, only those of aristocratic appearance and bearing being finally chosen after hundreds had been interviewed at the casting office.

The towns were designed and made under the direction of Sophie Wachner, costume designer and supervisor of women's wardrobe at the Fox West Coast studios. They are costumes that are likely to fascinate every woman who sees and hears this adaptation of Homer Croy's immensely popular story, the dialogue for which was written by Owen Davis Jr., dean of American playwrights.

It is rather paradoxical that the costumes worn in "They Had to See Paris" were created in the centre of the American picture industry rather than in the French metropolis, but this fact is added proof of the contention made by leading fashion magazines that Hollywood has lately become the fashion centre of the universe, taking that hold away from Paris.

Coliseum ScreenEddie Dowling Has Leading Role in Musical Presentation

Earlier talking pictures had an element of inconsistency when it came to the interpolation of music and songs, but "The Rainbow Man" is a fine example of how this has been overcome in talking pictures and how songs have been made a natural part of the plot and action.

How this is done is shown by mentioning the spots in the plot in which vocal and instrumental music have fitting places.

The song, "Smile, Little Pal," is introduced in a vaudeville theatre dressing-room. Then there is the musical of the minstrel men on parade. During the introductory scenes of Eddie Dowling and the girl, played by Marian Nixon, Dowling sings "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary."

In the minstrel show, Eddie Dowling, as "Rainbow Man," sings "Sleepy Valley" and "Rainbow Man." Other numbers featured prominently by the minstrel company on the stage are "Let's Lift Up the Curtain" and "Tambourine Tune."

The "Rainbow Man" is now being shown at the Coliseum Theatre.

Murders of Fair-haired Girls

in London Forms Film Theme

Murders of fair-haired girls have mystified London. The Tuesday night that another fair-haired girl is found dead to death a mysterious stranger takes lodgings at Mrs. Bunting's, whose daughter Daisy is loved by Joe Chandler, a detective. Daisy is attracted by the mysterious young man who has a habit of leaving the house late at night and always on Tuesdays. Chandler resents the lodger's attentions to Daisy and is annoyed that the girl appears to appreciate them. In a burst of zeal he suspects the lodger to be the arch-criminal for whom the police are hunting.

Quarters

The purchase of the Lee Dye Building, on the south side of View Street, east of Douglas Street, by the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.L., is announced by Thomas Dempster, president of the branch, after negotiations which were completed on Saturday. The consideration is said to be in the neighborhood of $20,000.

The first Realty Company acted for the former owner, George Mellor, and the trustees of the Britannia Branch for the purchasers.

The building is a three-story structure, standing on the east part of lot 44, and was originally held by Kum Jow Lee Dye and Lee Kow, and operated as an Oriental novelty store. Ownership to the property was transferred from Lee Dye and Lee Kow to George Mellor in title changes recorded at the Land Registry Office recently.

The Britannia Branch has now acquired the property from Mr. Mellor. The building will be altered slightly, for use as the new headquarters of the veterans' organization, who will take immediate possession.

Harry Richman, Leading
Broadway Singer, Heads
Cast

In prominence of cast and the authentic atmosphere of Broadway, "Puttin' on the Ritz," the United Artists all-dialogue musical spectacle starring Harry Richman, at the Dominion Theatre, promises to be the foremost offering in the record of talking, singing pictures.

The presence in the cast of Richman alone is sufficient to assure plenty of entertainment, for Richman has been one of New York's greatest attractions in musical comedy and night clubs for several years.

Second only to Richman and Joan Bennett, leading lady, is James Gleason, an outstanding figure in the theatrical business, who does everything there is to do about the theatre except take the audience.

He is the author of "In the Zoo" and "The Shannons of Broadway." In addition to writing these plays he starred in them as well. He writes original screen stories and

LANGFORD BOY CUT WHEN AXE FELL ON FOOT

Oswald Hincks had his foot cut by an axe on Friday afternoon at Langford Lake. The implement fell from a stump into which the blade had been driven by a woodchopper. The axe handle was not noticed by the lad until it fell, the blade shearing through his foot. The wound is progressing well.

Colonel C. R. Hodgins made a record catch of black bass when fishing at Langford Lake on Friday evening, the largest weighing three pounds.

Miss Joy Nixon of Arnold Street, Victoria, spent the holiday week-end as the guest of Stella Hincks.

Miss Shirley May Clarke, of Duncan, has been staying a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Frank Smedley, Goldstream Road.

Mrs. A. Norman Brown, Mrs. L. O. Wilkinson and Miss Cicely Setchfield were tea hostesses at the Tennis Club on Saturday afternoon.

R. A. Pennington has accepted a position on the match selection committee and Miss C. Setchfield on the tea committee of the Langford Tennis Club.

500 Old Boys Join In First Reunion Of Central School

Big Dinner at Empress Hotel Is Attended by Premier Tolmie, Himself a Central Old Boy; Ovation Is Accorded J. D. Gillis, Former Principal of School;
Premier Discovers Teacher of Old Days.

Old boys of the Central School to the number of nearly 500 inaugurated the Old Boys' Reunion celebration at the banquet at the Empress Hotel Friday evening.

Chairman George Jay of the Reunion committee, presided, and special tribute was paid to C. B. Sylvester, organizing secretary, to whom the success of the affair was ascribed. Presentation of a case of pipes was made to Mr. Sylvester. Principal Ernest Butterworth of the Boys' Central School, was praised for originating the idea of the reunion of pupils of the school, which dates back before Confederation.

PREMIER AMONG NUMBER

Many old boys from Vancouver and Puget Sound returned to Victoria to participate in the function and handshaking and recalling of days of years ago were the rule of the evening. Many of the old boys were accompanied by their wives. Premier Tolmie and Mrs. Tolmie, Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe and Mrs. Hinchcliffe, Mayor Anson and Mrs. Anson were among the many notables at the head table.

The introduction by Chairman Jay of John D. Gillis, principal of the school from 1897 to 1906, was the occasion of an especially enthusiastic demonstration, when all the pupils who had attended under his regime rose to their feet and, responding to the call of Fred M. McGee, for "Three cheers for 'Gillie'" gave him a stirring ovation.

URGED TO GROW BEARD

Mr. Gillis recalled that on the first day he took over his duties at the school there was a rush of callers, one of whom advised Mr. Gillis that he was too young for the post and that to conceal his youth he should grow a beard. Mr. Gillis spoke the names of the teachers under his principalship, including A. W. Currie, now Sir Arthur, who was head of the Canadian Corps in France and is now principal of McGill University. He also told of the great collection cups won by the boys of the Central School.

"The boys of those days were all right," Mr. Gillis said, who added that the school was especially proud of the fact that Premier S. F. Tolmie had been a schoolboy there.

BACK TO FIRST DAYS

Chairman Jay took the gathering back to the Crown Colony days of Burr's School, which was the predecessor of the Boys' Central, and pointed out some of the old boys of Burr's School who were present at the dinner. The pioneers of this part of the Coast were largely Hudson's Bay men, most of them Scots, and men of the Royal Engineers who built the Cariboo Highway.

"The descendants of those hardy early pioneers attended the Boys' Central School and they laid the foundation of this country," Mr. Jay said. "Their descendants are now carrying on here and building on the foundation which their sturdy forbears laid."

GOT CENTRAL SCHOOL WIFE

Mayor Anson explained that he was not a Central School boy himself but he had been using the name in marrying a Central School girl. He paid a tribute to the pioneers of the country and also to the wonderful tapestry of the men responsible for the reunion. The success of the gathering laid a splendid foundation for similar gatherings in the future.

"Everybody should be proud of this capital city of British Columbia and realize that we have a heritage here to develop," the mayor said. "We can make our ports here exactly what we want them to be if we have the energy and business acumen to develop them. When I look around and see some of the men the Boys' Central School has produced, I find they are men outdoing not only our own city, but in the Province, in Canada and in the United States. I trust that the Boys' Central School will continue to turn out in the future, as in the past, the type of citizen necessary to the building of a community or a nation, and with the highest principles."

The mayor also spoke of the opportunities here in the development of local resources and the export trade in wheat to the Orient.

PREMIER'S BOYHOOD EXPERIENCES

Premier Tolmie declared the reunion brought back memories of football on the green and licks at the old school. His first recollection of going to school was of Miss Moore's school on Pandora Street, just above the Jewish Synagogue. After that he went to Mrs. Criddle's School on Quadra Street and then to Criddle's School on View Street, conducted by Principal Smith, and from there to the Collegiate School. The names of Wright and O'Brien were among those of teachers he recalled.

Then the Premier told of going on to the Boys' Central when C. C. McKenzie was superintendent of education. Mr. Clementson was a teacher there then, and he loved all the boys. Other teachers were Struthers and John Poole. From there he passed up to the old high school, which was a white-washed structure with two rooms. There he recalled being coached by Professor Thompson, who afterwards went to live in Saanich.

RECALLS SCHOOL PALS

The Premier said he did not know whether Mr. Thompson was still living. On this an elderly man at the far end of the banquet hall yelled out, "Yes, he is. I am he."

"Of the boys who went to school with him," the Premier recalled the names of Mr. Wolfenden, the "big" beamer. Then he read an old certificate which had been presented to himself to mark the result of a race taken at the school and which resulted in himself being declared "the most popular boy in the school and being awarded the popularity prize."

This was in 1891. The Premier read the names of his fellow pupils—signing the certificate T. H. Baker, John Douglas, Jr., Aaron Lewis, John K. Fee and David Lee, M. Kiedemann, A. Lindsay, C. H. Kent, J. H. Wark, W. J. Bullen, C. D. Newbury, A. G. Harrison, George Chadwick and Alex Semple. Among the teachers there the Premier referred to Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Offerhaus. Other boys he recalled were Charlie Gardiner and Bingo White.

HIGHLIGHTS OF SCHOOL YEARS

Dr. Lachlan MacMillan of Vancouver was the guest representative of former Boys' Central boys who now live in other parts of the world. Like Joshua, who raised his hand and the sun stood still, the reunion committee, he said, raised their hands and memories of former Victoria schoolboys were rolled back as far as eighty years. Dr. MacMillan recalled some of the highlights of school days in Victoria for former generations, such as the Klondike gold rush of 1897, the Klondike, as well as everybody else here, were stirred by the dog teams, the sleds and the adventures leading up from the shores to set out for the north. He also mentioned the effect of the Point Ellice bridge disaster and the smallpox epidemic.

"Where will you find a city of the outstanding beauty of Victoria?" he went on, contrasting the James Bay mudflats of his boyhood days with the splendor of the Empress Hotel, which today rises above those old flats. He emphasized the social, media and material progress which had been made in the years since he and other old Central School boys had been at school here.

MUSICAL PROGRAMME

Miss Dorothy Hartree, gold medalist at the Musical Festival, and Ernest Buttrick were the soloists of the evening. Herbert Kent led the community singing of songs adapted to recall schoolboy days.

At the end of the dinner the reunion dance started. The entertainment of the evening was Miss Violet Fowkes, with a corps of her ballet dancers who won the Davis and King cup at the Musical Festival.

The dance committee consisted of T. P. McConnell, Herbert Kent, Fie Meaton, William H. Kinsman, Oscar Sommer and W. F. Carey Pope.

Charles F. Gardner, Fred Walter, J. Charles McNeill, T. P. McConnell and B. H. Hiscocca made up the dinner committee.

Among the many out-of-town visitors were George E. Moss and his son, Lyle B. Moss of Seattle; W. McPherson and his wife of Seattle; W. Jeffrey of Vancouver, and Washington Hiscocca of Bannockburn, all old Central School boys.

Those who signed the register at the dinner were:

George Jay, chairman, and Mrs. Jay; Premier and Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, Mayor and Mrs. Anson, Hon. J. Hinchcliffe and Mrs. Hinchcliffe, R. Hawford, M.P.P., and Mrs. Hayward; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Sylvester and Principal Butterworth.

If daughter hasn't a Joycycle, give her one for her birthday

THEN she can ride with the other children and join them in their play, instead of wistfully watching them go gayly by.

Children on Joycycles are happy kids. Many are the games they play with these smart, easy-running vehicles. And greatly do they benefit from the exercise in the open air.

The cost of a C.C.M. Joycycle is small compared to the pleasure it gives, and the benefit derived from the splendid outdoor exercise it provides.

Remember, C.C.M. Joycycles are made by the makers of C.C.M. Bicycles to C.C.M.'s high standard of quality. Models and prices to suit all ages and purses.

Call on your C.C.M. dealer and choose a C.C.M. Joycycle for your girl's or boy's birthday gift.

LEW RUSH WON
MAJOR EVENTS
AT CYCLE GALA

Fine Card of Races Staged at Royal Athletic Park For Empire Day Programme

Thrilling finishes marked a majority of the cycle races held on Saturday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park, the events being well organized by the Victoria Bicycle Club executive. The times registered were slow, half a gale of wind being a severe handicap to the riders. Lew Rush achieved notable honors, taking first place in the mile and also the half-mile open races.

The officials were: Judges, A. Walker, C. Patterson and R. Smith; timekeeper, R. Peden; starter, Josh Hancock; secretary, George Robinson. The results were:

One mile novice, first heat six riders—1, Godfrey Parsons, 2, W. B. Robbins, 3, Glen Robbins, Vancouver; second heat, six riders—1, Jim Taylor, 2, Jerry Ward, 3, Ken Mangnall, Vancouver. Final, five riders—1, Jerry Ward, 2, W. B. Robbins, 3, Jim Taylor. Time, 2:37.

Half-mile open, first heat, three riders—1, Glen Robbins, 2, Don Stewart, 3, Frank Elliott, Vancouver.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, May 26.—Wheat: Opened about 1/2 cent higher this morning following the holiday Saturday in this market, with a little buying by eastern interests and the advance continued until prices were 3/4 cents above the local Friday.

There was also some buying by Chicago and some short covering, but actually the feature was the scarcity of offerings, and the trade volume was not large. High winds and dust storms prevailed over the Canadian west Sunday, and there were some reports of damage coming from several districts. Chicago was relatively stronger than Winnipeg, and this helped the local market.

Liverpool closed 1/2 to 1 1/2 higher, when due 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 higher. The demand for cash wheat was inclined to be somewhat easier and spreads on some grades were 1/2 off, but holders were not pressing. There was only a fair business done for export, but over our long week-end many believe that the volume of the business being done is larger than in being reported locally.

There was a good demand for durum and round lots are difficult to buy. Showers, from light to moderately heavy were received in Alberta, and western parts of Saskatchewan. The Canadian visible decreased 5,818,000 and U.S. visible decreased 3,811,000 bushels, all of which seemed to indicate a business going on and improved from what it was.

A few unfavorable crop reports are being received from Europe, but generally these crops are believed to be in fairly good shape. We advise purchase of wheat on all sharp dips.

Conner grain and flour markets continued quiet with very little going on. Prices were higher but largely in sympathy with the strength in wheat.

Business in cash coarse grains is dull and confined to a few odd cars being worked to Eastern Canada.

Oats closed 1/2 to 3/4 up, barley 3/4 to 1/2 up, and rye 1/2 to 1/4 higher.

Flax—Market advanced rather sharply, closing 6 to 7 cents over the close Friday, but there is very little going on and nothing of feature, outside of light offerings.

How Short-sighted Are the Wives Who Refuse To Economize to Help Their Husbands; They Throw Out the Back Door the Pennies That Would Buy Them Diamonds 20 Years Later

I GET hundreds of despairing, nay desperate, letters from men asking how they can curb their wives' extravagance and make them see that unless they save and get a start in life while they are young they are doomed to a poverty-stricken old age.

These men are not stingy. They are generous and anxious to give their families every luxury and comfort, but they are ambitious. They want to succeed and make a place for themselves in the world. At middle age they want to be sitting pretty on the sunny side of Easy Street instead of skulking along in the shade of Poverty Flat, and they know that in order to do this they must live within their incomes and save up some money.

But strive as they may, they cannot do this because their wives spend faster than they can make. No matter what speed they put on, they are never a lap ahead of the bill collector. And nothing they can say to their wives registers. All of their remonstrances, their prayers, their entreaties fall on deaf ears.

Of course, wife agrees theoretically that they should economize. Some time, but not now. Of course, she agrees that they should lay up something for a rainy day, but why start now when the car is shabby and she has seen a new one that has a thousand new gadgets, or when they just must move into a more expensive apartment, or when she positively must have a lot of new dresses, or go to Europe?

So she goes out on another shopping orgy and husband sits down and tears his hair and wonders what he can do with this dear woman, whom he loves and who loves him, and who is good and kind, but who is ruining his life and letting all his hopes and ambitions and dreams slip through the hole in her pocketbook.

Now any woman is a mighty poor sport and a mighty poor wife who isn't willing to economize and cut her budget to the bone to help an energetic and ambitious young husband to get a start in the world. Also, she is a very stupid woman and a very short-sighted one, because every dollar that she saves and puts into his business will come back to her multiplied a hundred or a thousandfold in the future.

This has been proved over and over again. Ninety-nine per cent of the women in this land of ours who are now riding around in limousines and wearing Paris confections and ropes of pearls scribbled on cotton frocks that they made themselves and darned their stockings and walked twenty blocks to cut-rate butcher shops to get cheap meat when they were young married women in order that the money they saved by their scrimping could go to pay off the note in the bank or hire a new clerk in the store or expand the business.

The prosperity of many and many a millionaire concern has been built on the dime that a thrifty wife pinched, and I have heard many a rich man say in speaking of his days of struggle that he owed his success to his wife just as much as to his own effort, and that without her thrift and economy he must have failed.

For no poor young married man can succeed unless he has the co-operation of his wife. She can always waste more than he can earn, for it is literally true, as the homely proverb says, that a woman can throw more out of the back door with a teaspoon than a man can put in at the front door with a shovel.

No man is more unfortunate than the one who is married to a woman who is so weak, so dull, so self-indulgent that she cannot be made to see the necessity of saving, who cannot be made to appreciate that it is in his youth that a man's opportunity to get established in business comes to him, and that the only way that he can take advantage of his is to have some money laid by. Such a wife breaks her husband's heart by her lack of teamwork. She fails him when he needs her most. She paralyzes his ambition. She kills his initiative and slows down his efforts, because he sees the futility of trying to go ahead when she is holding him back by her extravagance.

And such a wife turns her husband's life into ashes and dust because she enslaves him to the milliner and the dressmaker and the butcher and the baker and the caterer. Many a man has nothing to show for a life of toil but a mountain of bills.

But sometimes husbands are responsible for their wives' extravagance. Sometimes a man lets his bride start off on the wrong foot by permitting her to rent a more expensive apartment than they can afford, and buy more elaborate furniture than he can pay for, because he is too much in love with her to refuse her anything, or because his vanity makes him want to pose before her as a go-getter.

Many men never tell their wives about how much they earn so that their wives do not really know whether they are being extravagant or not, and many men never talk over their business affairs with their wives, never make their wives feel that they have any real interest in it, or that what they do affects their husbands' prosperity.

Many a woman would be willing to deny herself in order to save for the business if her husband had made her realize that it is her business and that she is just as responsible for its success as he is. It is a common thing for women who have been extravagant wives to become penurious widows when their husbands' money passes into their own hands. A lot of wives feel that all they can get out of their husbands is just that much to the good, but when it is their own money they are spending it is a different tale. So it is a wise man who talks over his business with his wife and makes her feel that she is an active partner in it.

I am sorry for any woman who isn't willing to help her husband build up his business. She is missing one of the most enjoyable experiences in life. And she is missing having the fifty-cent string of glass beads she did without turn into a diamond necklace fifteen or twenty years later.

COMMUNISTS IN GERMANY FIGHT WITH FASCISTS

Factions Clash in Berlin and Pirmaseno; One Death Results

Berlin, May 26.—Two bystanders were wounded and a third was stabbed in free-for-all fights between Communists and Fascists yesterday. Four Communists were arrested.

Pirmaseno, Germany, May 26.—One person was killed and thirteen were injured last night in a Fascist attack on a party of Communists returning from a meeting.

The Communists, riding on trucks, were waylaid by a large band of Fascists. In the fight that followed, revolvers and knives were used freely.

THREE KILLED IN GUN FIGHT

Lepanto, Ark., May 26.—Four men, who officers said were known to them as leaders of two bitterly hostile liquor-running factions, met at an outdoor carnival here early yesterday and used pistols to settle their feud. Before Police Chief W. R. Adams brought his own gun into play to end the battle, two of the feudists and a third man were killed, another of the quartette was wounded seriously and eight bystanders were shot.

BODY OF JUDGE MISSING FOR OVER WEEK IS FOUND

Oakland, Cal., May 26.—The crushed body of Superior Judge Edward W. Engs was found yesterday in a stone quarry at Clifton Street, near Broadway, Oakland, within a few blocks of his home. The jurist, who had been missing since a week ago Friday, had fallen 175 feet from the crest of the quarry, which adjoins a cemetery.

King Sends His Congratulations To Amy Johnson

London, May 26.—The King yesterday sent his hearty congratulations to Miss Amy Johnson, first British woman to fly from England to Australia, in a telegram to the Australian Governor-General, which said: "The Queen and I are thankful to know of Miss Johnson's safe arrival in Australia and heartily congratulate her upon her wonderful and courageous achievement." (Signed) "George R.I." All England joyfully welcomed the news of the young woman's success and her safety.

MONTREAL DEATH

Montreal, May 25.—Lieut. Col. D. S. Inglis, prominent in the business and military life of Montreal, died suddenly early yesterday at his home. He was forty years old and had been in apparently perfect health. He had a long and distinguished period of service overseas. He is survived by a widow and by three brothers, Robert of Montreal and William and Lockhart, both of Winnipeg.

RECORD CROWD VIEWS PARADE ON MAY 24

Throng Estimated at 30,000
Gathered in City to Witness
Street Pageant

Prize Winners Announced
By Judges After Close
Contests

Crowds estimated at 30,000 people lined the streets on Saturday morning to watch the street parade, as a feature item on the May 24 programme. Flags and bunting on the streets and business premises, and even on ships in the harbor, gave the city a festive air, while each fresh train and boat added to the numbers that came to share in the holiday.

The parade assembled at Yates and Vancouver Streets, and moved off promptly on time, headed by the British Campaigners' color guard, and detachments from the Royal Canadian Navy and from the permanent force at West Point Barbeau. Pioneers under Lieut. Commander Hope marched at the head of the column, and these were followed by a like detail from the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, under Major Given.

Cars bearing Mayor Anson and the City Council, impressive in morning coats and top hats, followed, accompanied by visiting civic dignitaries from Vancouver and outside points who came to take part in the proceedings.

OLD BOYS CHEERED

Making an impressive showing, twelve cars, bearing representative classes of Old Boys from the Central School from the year 1862 to 1930 followed and these received an ovation from the crowds as the pageant wound its way through the centre of the city to Beacon Hill Park.

In the float section of the parade the Central School Old Boys displayed a model replica of the school and its bell tower, while the school bell itself clanged open the gates of memory for many an old-time pupil in the by-standers. "Dear Old School Days—If They Could Only Come Again!" was the wistful slogan borne on the side of the float.

The first competitive section of the parade was formed by hundreds of school children, in costume groups of eight. Sunflowers, the Provincers, Japanese Maidens, Tulips, Maid Marions, Dutch Girls, Butterflies and Fairies, to cite only a few of the motifs, made a pretty picture as the children, representative of every school, marched gaily in time to the music of the Victoria Girls' Band. The band, in scarlet and white uniforms, created a big impression on its first street appearance, and shared with the costumed children much of the applause that greeted this section of the parade. A lion's ark, with every animal imaginable, received a warm hand from the crowd. A gay band of buccaners in their good ship "Westward Ho" claimed like attention.

Next in order were the groups of four on decorated bicycles, also from the schools, and with entries displaying a great ingenuity in the decoration and arrangement of the presentation. Floral airplanes, rainbows, flower baskets, gondolas, butterflies, balloon wheels, and musketeers, mustached and fierce, joined in making this one of the attractive displays of the parade, which was shared in by some twenty groups from the schools.

BEAUTIFUL FLOATS

Several beautiful floats were entered in the commercial and advertising section. That by David Spencer Limited showed a towering snow-white castle, set in a landscaped lawn of flowers in full bloom. Miniature figures carried out the illusion of spacious grounds, and, representative of the spirit of spring, a pretty attendant occupied a garden seat, in smart attire. "Victoria, the Garden City of Canada," was the slogan borne on this float, and it proved popular with the throng.

A garden scene was also the motif of a beautiful float by the British Columbia Electric Railway Company Limited, where three dainty golden-brown butterflies shared with a sundial the spirit of happy, carefree days out of doors.

The Ship Chandlers McQuade Limited entered a seagoing cruiser, with a full-sized complement of sea cadets, together with everything required by yachtsmen or launch users for the upkeep of their craft. It bore the slogan, "Build Your Boats in Victoria, and Man Them With Victoria Boys."

Plimley & Ritchie's float showed "The Inheritance of Youth," in a white and purple float, where the bicycle was the central idea of outdoor life and health-giving opportunity. A diminutive fairy queen gazed down on the scene in high gladness, and waved her fairy wand cheerily at the crowd.

ENJOYED PARADE
In the float of Floral Telegraph Service one little girl had real fun during the parade, being seated in a swing that she rode backwards and forwards in great style while the parade was in progress. A rustic arbor and purple and yellow flowers completed the picture.

The Community Buyers' Association gave a practical demonstration of a full-sized grocery store, with shelves full of things to please, and the slogan, "Keep Your Money Working at Home" as the motif of a buy-at-home display. An up-to-date attendant stood behind the counter, ready to give "service with a smile."

The B. Wilson Company, Morgan Fuel Company, Louis Nelson Garage, B. J. Smith, Brytholm Goat Dairy and the Victoria Auto Laundry put in trade exhibits representative of their businesses.

SERVICE CLUBS
In the fraternal, social and service club displays, the Kinmen's Club float carried with it a breath of thrill on the water. A speed boat, dashing over a green ground, called to mind the fun of the sea, while two fair yachtsmen seemed to be enjoying their ride immensely. "Miss Canada" was the name of the Kinmen's speedy boat, and "Young Ahead" the motto.

The Revelers' Club displayed a pretty float with its seven-pointed silver sail, set on a pyramid of tresses in contrasting colors.

"Young Victoria" was represented by the Native Daughters of B.C. in an evergreen float with bright colors, artistic decorations and fair attendants. The Victoria Model Aircraft League had an attractive float, showing the world of aviation. A dirigible could be seen circling the world, seaplanes and airplanes flying about, and the slogan, "Aviation Brings the World to Victoria," added a telling note to a thoughtful and attractive exhibit.

The S.P.C.A. entered a pony and trap, with a great mastiff and a friendly little spaniel on lead. A parrot accompanied the occupants of the trap, but he was at liberty, perched on the arm of his attendant.

NARROWS BRIDGE
The "Seymour Narrows Bridge" was represented in a pony trap float, carrying a replica model of the much-discussed bridge, with a busy line of shipping passing on either side.

The Speedway Service Station entered a war grey tank, with machine gunners and tin-hatted Tommies to carry out a picture of automotive service in the desperate days of war.

Mrs. J. C. Newbury and Mrs. Emily Dallimore entered cars in the private decorated car section, each having an attractive floral display as the central theme for the display. Both captured prizes.

AMOS AN' ANDY
In the comic and novelty section Amos an' Andy fired the imagination of the crowds in three separate exhibits.

"The Victoria Strawberry Pie Band," a juvenile band in gay attire an' full of life, drew much applause. Summary applause met an Amos an' Andy band from the British America Paint Company. The "Fresh Hair Hackey Kab Company," with Amos, Andy and Madame Queen, received quite a hand, and was followed by another version of the "Fresh Air Hackey Kab Company." The "East Sooke Fire Department," with a strict stipulation that fire could only be met by appointment, received an equally warm welcome.

A record crowd witnessed the parade, which was carried off without hitch. The results of the judging were as follows:

CIVIC VISITORS

Out-of-town visitors who rode in the parade included Mayor and Mrs. Hargreaves of Port Townsend, Mayor and Mrs. Barber of Chilliwack, Alderman and Mrs. Dean, Vancouver; Alderman Bennett, Vancouver, and Alderman Allison and Beck of New Westminster.

Four bands supplied the music for the line of march, the Fifth B.C. Coast Brigade Band, the Victoria Girls' Band, the Pipe Band of the 18th Canadian Division and the drum and life band of the Eagles.

Of all pre-arranged plans for the event only one item went awry. This was the supply of gas-filled balloons, 10,000 of which were to have been sold on the streets through the Universal Supply Company. Difficulty in the filling of the balloons is due to a tie-up, under which only a meagre number could be put into action in time to serve the parade.

The parade committee expressed its thanks to the following firms and organizations who donated extra prizes towards the event: Hudson's Bay Com-

TWO THOUSAND PEOPLE VISIT WILLOWS OVAL

May 24 Horse and Whippet
Races Popular; Ben Junior
Champion Whippet

Close to 2,000 people turned out at the Willows Oval on Saturday afternoon to witness the horse and whippet racing. Entertained in addition by a military band and the feats of Rocky Brooks, the holiday crowd took its pleasure along with the dust, and frequently gave the competitors a full measure of applause.

The majority of the six horse races were closely contested. In the third race, three-eighths of a mile for thoroughbreds, not more than a length separated the first three horses. After an even start, the four horses bunched together, and never separated. Oregon Mist, with better staying power, won from Tatters by a neck, with Jack Beeman a yard or two behind.

In the half mile saddle horse race for ladies, considerable trouble was met in starting the entries off. After half a dozen tries, they got away, and Beggar Boy won with plenty to spare.

Probably the fastest run race of the day was the half mile open. Seth Bacon at the finish was a length ahead of Wilkip Blossom, and Miss Jennings was not far behind.

Rode, ridden by Mrs. Carley, proved the day's best jumper, though Richard and Elizabeth Garrett, respectively, gave them plenty of competition. This event seemed the most popular of the day.

BEN JUNIOR WINS AGAIN
Ben Junior, owned by J. Mallandain of Vancouver, ran away with the whippet racing honors. This dog has never been beaten. It has proven itself the best racer in Canada, and in British Columbia has won innumerable cups. One of these is the trophy presented by Premier S. P. Tolmie. Last year, in California, Ben Junior won the All-American Derby. The perhaps even more famous Sarah Porter, also owned by Mr. Mallandain, was due to run on Saturday, but met with a painful accident in Vancouver on Wednesday. It was hit by a motor car and had a front leg broken and a large gash opened on a hind leg.

HOUSE APPROVES SALES TAX CUT

Ottawa, May 25.—The House of Commons in committee of ways and means Saturday passed the resolutions making changes in the Special War Revenue Act. The first change reduced the sales tax from two per cent to one per cent. Another important change was in the tax on the sale and transfer of shares of stock. When this first came up it was left standing while information was obtained as to the returns from this method of taxation. It was passed without much discussion later on.
